PATH CLEARED FOR KNOX TO GO INTO CABINET

Congress Will Reduce Salary of Premier to Get Around Constitution.

KNOX TO GET AS PREMIER ONLY $8,000 PER YEAR

This Will Be Same Salary as Before He Helped Increase It to $12,000 and in Consequence No Breach Will Be Made in the Constitution—Will Not Talk.

Washington, February 10.—Following close upon the discovery that Senator Philander C. Knox, of Pennsylvania, could not, without violating a provision of the constitution of the United States, accept the state portfolio in the Taft cabinet, the senate today took prompt action to remove the constitutional objection.

Senator Hale introduced a resolution, which was referred to the committee on the judiciary, providing that the salary of secretary of state be reduced from $12,000 to $8,000, the figure at which it stood before it was increased, along with those of all other cabinet officers two years ago.

In view of this resolution, Assistant Attorney General Russell, to whom the question was referred, informally, for an opinion, held that if congress restored the salary to what it was before Mr. Knox entered the senate, "the case falls outside the purpose of the law, and is not within the law."

Hale Talks of Law.

Senator Hale, in discussing the situation, said:

"It would be very serious if there were no remedy, but there is a remedy in a repeal of the law increasing the salary of the secretary of state, and it will be immediately applied. The portion of the law applying to the office of the secretary of state can be cancelled by legislation, and as the law was never intended to apply in such a case as that of Mr. Knox there is no doubt that a bill with this end in view will be immediately introduced, and just as little doubt that it will be passed."

Senator Hale said there is no thought on the part of senators of increasing the compensation of the secretary of state after March 4, 1911, when Mr. Knox's term in the senate would have expired had he served until its close. He said, it is the purpose of Mr. Knox to serve throughout the four years of the Taft administration at a salary of $8,000 per annum.

Hale's Remedy Accepted.

The general consensus of opinion, on both sides of the senate chamber, was in accord with Senator Hale's view, that the situation should be remedied by the repeal of the law insofar as it affected the office of the secretary of state, but there were a few dissenting voices on the democratic side. Senator Rayner, himself an eminent legal authority, after canvassing both sides of the chamber, expressed the view that repeal offered the only feasible course out of the difficulty. He said:

"The status at the time the appointment is made governs the case, and if at that time, under the law, there is no increase in salary, but the salary stands as it did before it was increased, there can be no opposition to the appointment."

This could be accomplished by making the status of the law what it was before the increase was made.

In the house there was general acceptance of the suggestion, but it was not accepted by all as feasible. Some members raised the question as to whether, even after a repeal, he would not be prohibited, inasmuch as the constitution forbids the appointment to an office, the salary of which has been raised during the appointee's term as a member of congress, nothing being said about the subsequent reduction of the salary.

Caused a Sensation.

The first suggestion of the possible constitutional obstacle to the appointment of Senator Knox as secretary of state was broached yesterday, but it was so late at night that no one had an opportunity to lay hands upon legal authorities which must serve as a basis for an answer to the question. Consequently, this morning there was much scanning of constitutions, statute books, supreme court decisions, opinions of comptrollers of the treasury and other usual sources of such information.

The facts in the case are perfectly plain. There is no dispute about them. Senator Knox was last elected for a six-year term, which will not expire until March 9, 1911. The Constitution prohibits the appointment of a senator to an office created, or the salary of which has been increased during the term for which he was elected.

Knox Is Disturbed.

So the question is whether, under this uncontrovertible state of affairs, Senator Knox can lawfully succeed Robert Bacon as secretary of state on March 5. It is quite evident that the senator himself is a good deal disturbed by the springing of this question at this moment. He has not committed himself to all callers, but is [illegible] with his personal friends, especially those of a legal turn of mind.

BIG STICK KILLS ANTI-JAP BILLS IN CALIFORNIA

Pressure Brought by Roosevelt Causes the Legislature to Reverse Itself.

NO SEPARATE SCHOOLS FOR JAPANESE CHILDREN

Yellow Boys and Girls Will Attend Same Schools as White Boys and Girls—Author of Anti-Jap Bill Bids Defiance to President Roosevelt—Telegrams Exchanged.

NATION TO CARE FOR CALIFORNIA

—ROOSEVELT.

Washington, February 10.—The following telegrams were given out at the white house tonight without comment:

"Sacramento, Cal., February 10, 1909—The President, Washington: School segregation bill killed in the assembly today by a vote of 41 to 37.

"J. N. GILLETT."

"The White House, Washington, February 10, 1909.—To Governor J. N. Gillett, Sacramento, Cal.: Accept my heartiest congratulations. All good Americans appreciate what you have done. Pray extend my congratulations individually to all who have aided you. I feel that the way in which California has done what was right for the nation makes it more than ever obligatory on the nation in every way to safeguard the interests of California. All that I personally can do toward this end, whether in public or private life, shall most certainly be done.

"THEODORE ROOSEVELT."

Sacramento, Cal., February 10.—Yielding to the pressure brought to bear by President Roosevelt and Governor J. N. Gillett, the California assembly today reversed its previous position by reconsidering the former vote on the segregation of Japanese students in the public schools, finally rejecting the measure by a vote of 41 to 37.

An effort by the supporters of the bill further to consider was lost by a vote of 38 to 38, and the assembly is now clear of any Japanese measure objected to by the national administration.

After Heated Debate.

The fight for the suppression of the bill was won only after many hours of heated debate on the floor. The struggle started at 10:30 o'clock in the morning, on the presentation of a resolution by Assemblyman J. P. Transue, of Los Angeles, affirming the right of the state to govern its schools, but withdrawing the Japanese segregation measure because of the president's objection to it, and lasted until four o'clock in the afternoon when Grove L. Johnson's motion further to reconsider his defeated school segregation bill was defeated.

The school bill is still to be considered in the senate, having been presented there by Senator A. C. Camenetti, but there is little chance that the measure will be approved when brought up.

"I am highly pleased with the action of the assembly today," said Governor Gillett. "The east has been deeply concerned in the measures pending here, and I feared that if the anti-Japanese legislation were pressed at this time it would have a disastrous effect."

Johnson Defied Roosevelt.

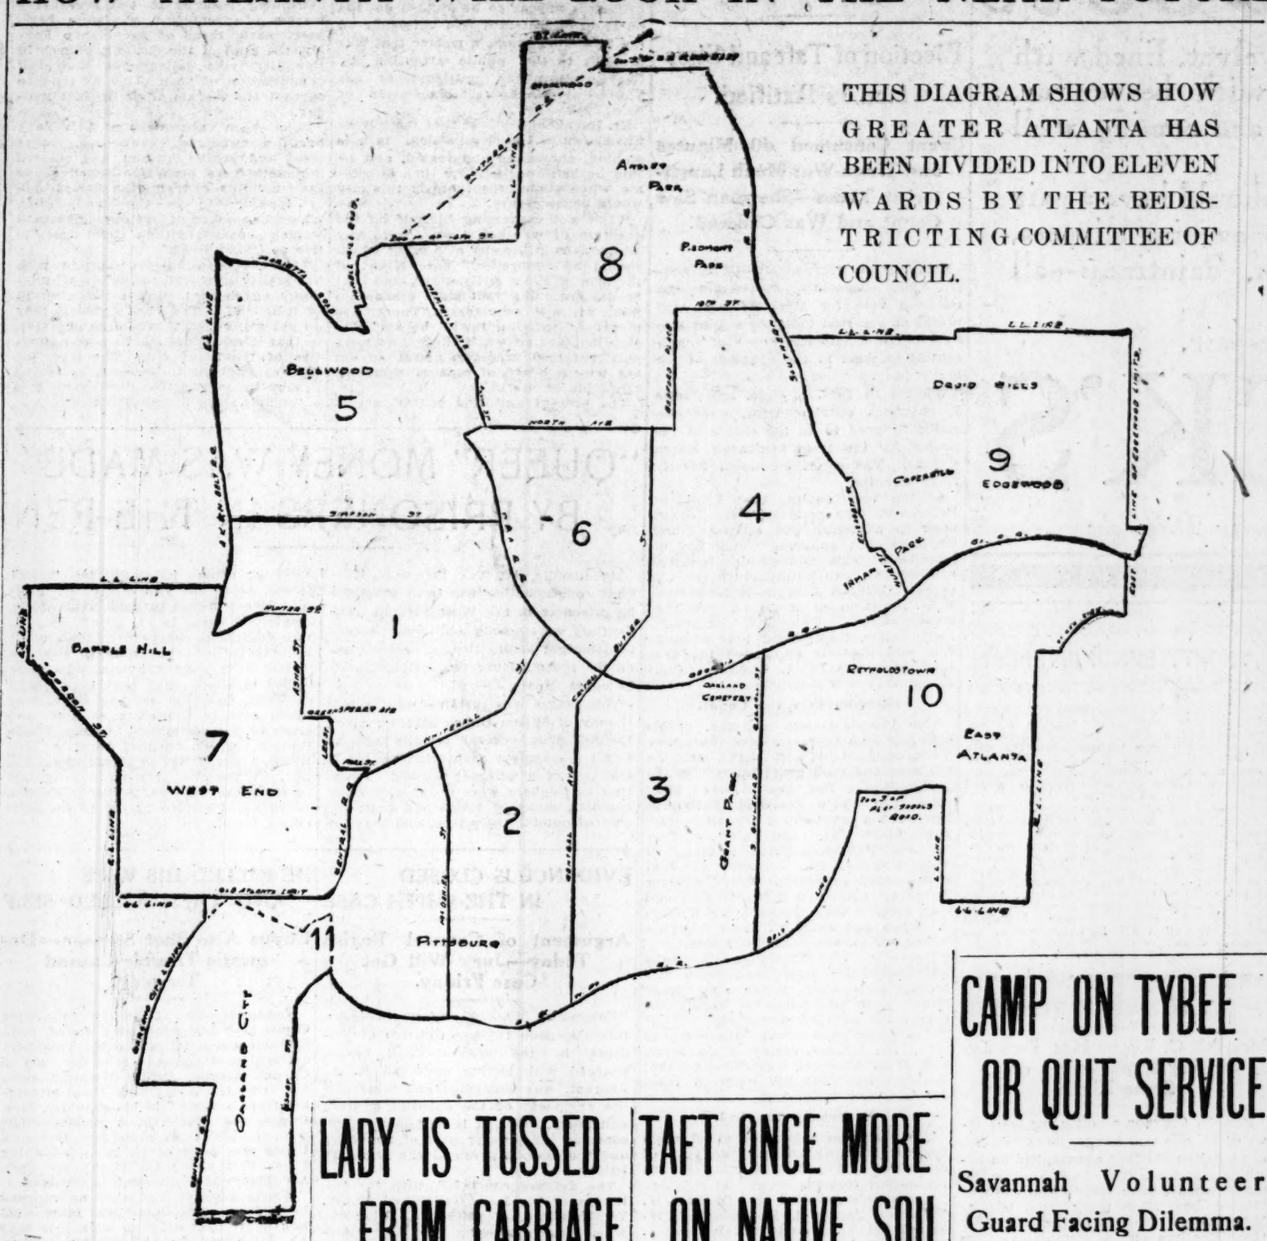

The anti-Japanese forces in the assembly were led today by Grove L. Johnson, author of the school segregation bill, on which the fight hinged, and Louis W. Juillard, Democratic floor leader, while the opposition was directed by Transue and Richard Melrose. Transue's resolution opened the debate and the fight was really made on this measure, the reconsideration motion not being put until there had been a lengthy argument.

Mr. Johnson repeated his defiance of the president, and called on the assembly to "stand by its guns." He was answered by Transue and Melrose, every phase of the question being reviewed.

Transue suddenly withdrew his resolution and the fight centered on the reconsideration motion, presented by Walter Leeds, of Los Angeles. This was finally forced to a vote, and was carried, 43 to 34. The roll call on the bill itself immediately followed, and it

NEGRO AT STAKE READY TO BURN

Mob Had Taken Him From Jail.

Sheriff Interfered and, on Condition Negro Would Produce Alibi, He Was Marched Back to Prison—Attempted to Assault Young Woman.

Tampa, Fla., February 10.—Charley Crumley, the negro arrested on suspicion of being the man who attempted to criminally assault Miss Irma Newell yesterday, was taken from the jail at Lakeland this morning by a mob of one thousand men, bound to a stake, fagots heaped about his body and oil poured over the mass, with the intention of burning him.

Sheriff John Logan, assisted by his brother, Alonzo Logan, and Special Deputy E. McMullen, stood their ground so persistently, and the negro declaring he could prove an alibi, his life was spared.

The negro was marched back to jail, and a number of prominent men have sworn to prevent any further attempts upon his life. The town is full of armed men.

Miss Newell declares that Crumley looks like the man who attempted the crime, but is not certain.

Two companies of the Second regiment, Florida national guard, have been ordered to Lakeland from here to assist the authorities in protecting Crumley. The troops will leave Tampa at 9 o'clock.

LADY IS TOSSED FROM CARRIAGE

Little Daughter Uninjured When Vehicle Hits Tree.

Frightened by Broken Singletree, Horses Run Away, Mrs. William Richardson Being Injured in Trying to Jump to the Street.

While out driving yesterday afternoon about 3:30 o'clock, in the carriage of Mrs. J. M. High, of 528 Peachtree, Mrs. William S. Richardson, of 398 Spring street, was thrown out and painfully injured when the horses, frightened by a broken singletree, dashed down Ponce de Leon avenue from Peachtree and came to a dead stop when the vehicle hit a magnolia tree in the yard of R. H. Brown, at 26 Ponce de Leon.

Mrs. Richardson opened the door of the carriage in an effort to leap out just as the horses were mounting the curbstone to etner the yard, and was thrown to the ground. She was carried into the residence of George Howard, at 20 Ponce de Leon, and Dr. W. S. Elkin was sent for and had her removed, after an hour, to the Elkin-Goldsmith sanitarium, from whence she son returned home. She sustained a sprained ankle and a cut on the forehead.

Mrs. Richardson and her little daughter, Florence, were in the carriage when one of the singletrees broke and frightened the horses. Oscar Dash, the driver, clung to his box, and succeeded in turning the horses across the street toward the Howard residence. At this point Mrs. Richardson jumped out and immediately after the conveyance struck a telephone pole and threw Oscar from the box. The horses then ran through Mr. Howard's front yard and came to a standstill when the carriage struck a magnolia tree. Little Florence Richardson opened the carriage door and walked out unhurt. Oscar was only slightly bruised.

Mrs. High's carriage suffered the loss of its lamps and other lighter parts, and one of her horses was painfully hurt, but will recover in a short while.

CHANGES PROPOSED IN THE CENSUS BILL

Measure May Be Amended to Meet Objections of Roosevelt.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, D. C., February 10.—(Special.)—The house committee on the census may move to report the census bill in slightly amended form and the members believe it will then prove acceptable to both the house and the president.

By providing for competitive examination of applicants they will meet the president's objection that the present bill perpetuates the spoils system. This will insure the more capable applicants being given positions and insure that the work will be well done. The congressmen will have the designation of those who are to take the examination and southern members can protect the people of their districts from the danger of undesirable citizens being named as enumerators.

Asks Damages for Fall.

Macon, Ga., February 10.—(Special.)—S. J. Armand, a foreman of a switching crew for the Central railway, filed suit in the city court today for the recovery of $10,000 for a fall which he said he sustained on a car in the yards in November.

TAFT ONCE MORE ON NATIVE SOIL

Cruiser North Carolina Anchored Last Night.

New Orleans Reception Committee Will Meet Him Below City This Afternoon—Will Land One Hour Later and Review Military Parade.

Steamship North Carolina, via New Orleans, February 10.—Judge and Mrs. Taft and party, including the board of engineers taken to Panama and Colonel Goethals, will board the scout cruiser Birmingham tomorrow at 7:30 o'clock and will commence the trip up the Mississippi river.

Voyage Uneventful.

The voyage from Panama to the mouth of the Mississippi river was uneventful, with the exception of the disabling of the machinery of the Montana last Monday, the second day out from Colon. As a result of this accident, it became necessary for the Montana to fall behind until repairs could be made and when these were completed, a 19-knot clip had to be maintained by the Montana for a day in order to overtake the North Carolina and again assume her place as convoy.

Worked on Inaugural Address.

Mr. Taft occupied himself during the voyage at work on his inaugural address. The board of engineers took the time to compile their official report, which will approve the Gatun dam, as at present planned, as well as the Colon harbor breakwater, besides giving expert opinions on several engineering questions regarding the canal. This report will be transmitted to President Roosevelt by Mr. Taft, and will be used by Colonel Goethals before congressional committees in explaining the estimates for appropriations for the coming year. Work on the breakwater will be begun and it is planned to turn 10 feet of water into the lake formed by the Gatun dam by next May.

The president-elect will be engaged until Saturday morning in New Orleans. He will then proceed direct to Cincinnati.

The North Carolina and Montana are tonight anchored about half a mile apart, and both are about a mile south of the pass lightship. To eastward is the scout cruiser Birmingham, which will take the president-elect and his party to New Orleans tomorrow, and near the Birmingham is the light house tender Magnolia, which will serve as a transfer boat.

Return Marked With Jollification.

The night of the president-elect's return to the United States was marked by more or less jollification by those on board, and the little squadron formed by four ships presented a pretty sight shortly before midnight, when the moon rose slowly up over the gulf.

Band Played.

The band on the North Carolina played several patriotic airs just after coming to anchor and the few inhabitants of Port Eads and Pilot Town responded by tooting the whistles on the pilot boats and giving three cheers.

All Arrangements Made.

New Orleans, February 10.—All arrangements were completed tonight for the reception of President-elect William Howard Taft, who, with Mrs. Taft and other members of the party that made

CAMP ON TYBEE OR QUIT SERVICE

Savannah Volunteer Guard Facing Dilemma.

War Department Insists on Duty at Fort Screven on the Part of Heavy Artillery Battalion of National Guard of Georgia.

Savannah, Ga., February 10.—(Special.) As the result of their effort to get relieved from the regular annual tour of duty in camp this year, the Savannah Volunteer Guards, which constitute the First heavy artillery battalion, national guard of Georgia, find themselves in a peculiar predicament.

Under a ruling of the war department they will either have to withdraw their request for relief from encampment duty and go into the camp of instruction at Fort Screven, as required, or they will have to abandon their organization as heavy artillery, in which latter event two courses would be open to them: they might become infantry again as a part of the First regiment, or, if they chose, voluntarily disband.

Major Frederick L. Palmer, United States army, acting inspector general of state troops, was in conference with the officers of the Guards' battalion last night with a view to disentangling the situation, but those present at the conference refuse to discuss its details.

Tired of Tybee Vacations.

It is known, however, that the trouble grows primarily out of a request made by the Guards through Major W. B. Stephens, since retired, to Governor Smith that the command be relieved from encampment duty at Fort Screven this year, on the ground that the men objected to spending their vacations every year on Tybee island. They were willing to go there every other year, but thought they should have their time in alternate years to go where they pleased.

In connection with the request for relief from encampment duty this year, Major Stephens also made requisition for a considerable amount of armory property, designed to furnish on small scale, heavy artillery practice within the armory quarters.

Governor Smith, after consideration, decided to relieve the Guards from encampment this year, and the governor's decision in the matter was reported to the war department at the same ume the requistion for this armory property was sent on to Washington.

The war department's reply, it is understood, was to the effect that while it recognized the right of the governor under the law to relieve any command from the annual encampment duty, the conditions were such in this case that the department would have to insist upon the performance of it, as otherwise, it was stated, the command would be of no value to the United States as heavy artillery. The war department at the same time decined to furnish the property for armory practice, as requested by Major Stephens.

It is known that soon after he was apprised of the action of the war department, Major Stephens tendered his resignation and was, at his request, placed on the retired list.

Asked to Withdraw Request.

This left the battalion in command of Captain Hutton, senior captain. It is understood that the object of Major Palmer's conference with Captain Hutton and the other officers of the battalion had for its purpose, in part at least, the effort to induce the Guards to withdraw their request to the governor for relief from encampment duty at Fort Screven. Whether that will be done remains to be seen.

According to the view held of the war department's attitude, this is the only

ELEVEN WARDS ARE PROVIDED FOR ATLANTA

Redistricting Committee Agrees Upon a Report.

REPORT TO BE MADE TO COUNCIL ON MONDAY

All Ward Lines Are Changed and Two Additional Wards Are Made—City Engineer Makes Estimate of Area and Voting Population of All the Wards.

Into eleven new wards Greater Atlanta has been divided by the special redistricting committee and a unanimous report will go to the general council next Monday afternoon.

The committee reached an agreement as to the new ward lines after considerable trouble and after much investigating and discussion. The ward lines were made from a plat drawn by the city engineer and, with a few changes, his original lines were adhered to.

In making the divisions the committee had to be governed by both the area of square miles and the population, so as to make all wards as near the same size and at the same time have as nearly as possible the same voting population.

Oakland City, with a part of the old limits of Atlanta, was made the eleventh ward.

The second, third and sixth wards were made smaller, while the first, fifth, seventh and eighth were made larger. The fourth ward lines were changed, but the size of the ward is practically the same.

The Eleven New Wards.

The new ward areas are as follows:

First ward: Beginning at the intersection of the Central railroad and Whitehall street, thence along the Central railroad to the Western and Atlantic railroad, then to Simpson street, then to the city limits, then south to West Hunter street, then to Ashby street, then to Greensferry avenue, then to Lee street, then to Park street, then to the Central railroad, the point of beginning.

Second ward: Beginning at the corner of Whitehall and McDaniel streets, then along Whitehall street to the Georgia railroad, then to Central place,

ARREST PRETTY WOMAN AT THE LYRIC THEATER

Mrs. M. C. Evans Has Two Exciting Experiences on Same Night.

Mrs. M. C. Evans, a pretty young woman of 25, who has apartments in the Palace hotel on Madison avenue, had an exciting experience at the Lyric theater last night, when a man with whom she was talking was taken away from her by his wife, and she was later arrested by the detectives on a complaint from West Mitchell street merchants that she had secured about $25 worth of clothing for which she had never paid.

Mrs. Evans was taken to the station house and required to put up a cash bond of $50. She says it is all a misunderstanding, and that she is confident of vindicating herself of the charge.

Before the arrest was made, Mrs. Evans and her escort were talking to another friend of Mrs. Evans, when his wife appeared on the scene and took husband away.

Detectives Bullard and Black, who had received a complaint from a furnishings store on West Mitchell street, that Mrs. Evans had secured about $25 worth of goods, including a skirt and shirtwaist, for which the merchants said Mrs. Evans had never paid, were informed that Mrs. Evans was at the theater and arrested her there. A technical charge of disorderly conduct was entered against her.

Mrs. Evans stated that she had been married three times, two of her husbands being still alive.

ONE MAN WAS KILLED AND SCORES INJURED

By Great Wind Storm Which Swept Over Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, February 10.—One man was killed, scores of people were injured, houses were demolished and many persons had almost miraculous escapes in a terrific wind storm which visited different sections of this city this afternoon.

Robert G. Weightman was struck and instantly killed by a heavy timber blown from the roof of the Blockley Baptist Church.

A heavy steeple on the Roman Catholic Church of Our Mother of Sorrow, fell, endangerinfg the lives of 150 children who attended the parochial school. Another narrow escape was that of Peter Maguire. He ran from his home to save a child who was being carried like a feather in the storm's path. Just as he left the house the building collapsed. The house next door had the roof blown off.

HEAVY LOSS IS CAUSED TO TOBACCO GROWERS

No Insurance Can Be Collected on Property Destroyed by Night Riders.

Frankfort, Ky., February 10.—The Kentucky court of appeals today handed down an opinion which means a loss of thousands of dollars to tobacco growers and others whose crops and barns and other property were destroyed during raids of night riders in the past two years.

In reversing the Caldwell circuit court in the case of five insurance companies against the Imperial Tobacco Company, the court upheld the validity of the "riot clause" of policies written in Kentucky.

The Imperial Tobacco Company sued for insurance carried on the company's barns destroyed by night riders at Princeton, Caldwell county, November 30, 1906. The lower court gave judgment for insurance, but the court of appeals reversed this, and said that the riot clause prevented recovery of insurance.

Ex-Governor Glenn to Speak.

Augusta, Ga., February 10.—Former Governor Glenn, of North Carolina, will deliver a lecture in Augusta Sunday morning at the First Presbyterian church on evangelic work. He will open a campaign of publicity in the evangelic work in the south, and his address is expected to carry with it many interesting features. Mr. Glenn's stand as a prohibitionist is quite well known in the south and his taking the platform in the interest of evangelic work will create much interest.

CONGRESS COUNTS ELECTORAL VOTES

Election of Taft and Sherman Is Ratified.

Count Consumed 40 Minutes and There Was Much Laughter at Times—Sherman Saw Count and Was Cheered.

Washington, February 10.—With simple, but impressive ceremonies the electoral vote for president and vice president occurred today at a joint session of the senate and house of representatives, held in the chamber of the lower body.

William H. Taft, of Ohio, and James S. Sherman, of New York, were officially declared to be the choice of the people for the term beginning March 4 next. The count consumed exactly forty minutes.

At the very outset, Vice President Fairbanks, who presided, was called upon to admonish the senators and members that applause would not be permitted. This admonition followed democratic manifestations over the name of William J. Bryan in connection with the vote of Alabama, the first state called. The Taft adherents, nevertheless, disregarded the admonition and liberally applauded the first mention of his name, when the California vote was announced.

Sherman Saw the Count.

Vice President-elect Sherman, in his capacity as a representative from New York, occupied his accustomed place on the floor and took great interest in the proceedings. The entire joint body stood until Vice President Fairbanks brought his gavel down. Senators Burrows, of Michigan, and Bailey, of Texas, and Representatives Gaines, of West Virginia, and Rucker, of Missouri, acted as tellers. When Senator Burrows announced that Alabama had cast her full vote of eleven for William J. Bryan and John W. Kern applause broke out on the democratic side.

Instantly Vice President Fairbanks admonished the house and there was no applause when Bryan and Kern were again mentioned as having received the vote of Arkansas.

The republicans broke into applause when Mr. Rucker, himself a democrat, and from Missouri, announced that Missouri had cast her eighteen votes for Taft and Sherman.

Everybody Laughed.

The whole body laughed aloud when Senator Burrows misread the vote of Nebraska and put that state in the republican column.

The tellers reported that William H. Taft and James S. Sherman had received 321 votes and that William J. Bryan and John W. Kern had received 162 votes. Only 242 votes were necessary to elect. The vice president announced that Messrs. Taft and Sherman had received more than the requisite majority and that "this announcement of the state of the vote by the president of the senate shall be deemed a sufficient declaration of the persons elected president and vice president of the United States, each for the term beginning March 4, 1909, and shall be entered, together with a list of the votes, on the journals of the senate and house of representatives."

Cheers for Sherman.

The vice president then declared the business completed. Senators then shook hands with Mr. Sherman. Mr. Loudenslager, of New Jersey, during a recess that was taken in the house, proposed three cheers for the vice president-elect, which were given with a will by republicans and democrats alike.

Someone started singing "He's a Jolly Good Fellow" and the refrain was taken up all over the house.

Roemer for Anniversarian.

He will deliver an address on the evening of the 21st instant, on the occasion of the celebration of the one hundred and eighth anniversary of that society. The Phi Kappa Society anniversarian will be selected in a contest tomorrow afternoon.

Three Men Killed.

Epilepsy, Fits

"My son was cured of a very bad case of epilepsy with Dr. Miles' Nervine."

MRS. D. BAKER, Cleveland, O.

"My little daughter who was afflicted with St. Vitus' Dance is now entirely well after taking Dr. Miles' Nervine only four months."

MRS. C. G. BENNETT, Alma, Mich.

Epilepsy, Fits, St. Vitus' Dance and Spasms, are all nervous diseases. They have been cured in so many instances with Dr. Miles' Nervine that it is reasonable to conclude that it is almost sure to cure you. With nervous diseases of a severe type, persistent use has almost invariably resulted in a complete cure or lasting benefits, worth many times the cost of the remedy. The best evidence you can get of its merits is to write to those who have used it. Get a bottle from your druggist. Take it all according to directions, and if it does not benefit he will return your money.

ILLITERACY AND INDECENCY CAPTURE NEW YORK STAGE

New York, February 10.—Theatrical managers appear to be divided on the question of illiteracy and indecency on the New York stage, a matter that was brought to the public attention by Charles Burnham, president of the Theatrical Managers' Association of New York.

Mr. Burnham declared that there were five shows in the city which, in his opinion, should be suppressed, and he said he believed that the time is coming when stage censorship in this city would be necessary.

While not expressing himself on the question of whether there were any productions in the city at present which should be suppressed, Marc Klaw, of the firm of Klaw & Erlanger, said that he did not thing that state censorship was at all necessary. "There are plenty of existing laws," he said, "to stop indecent shows, if these laws were only enforced properly, and I do not see why a board of censors would be advisable or useful."

The present agitation against a certain type of plays in the city may be attributed perhaps to the recent remarks of prominent ministers here, particularly those of Archbishop Farley, the head of the Catholic church in this city, who delivered a scatching denunciation of such plays as tend to corrupt the morals of youth last Sunday.

It has been suggested that New York needs a sweeping evangelistic movement and purity crusade, and several ministers have been questioned as to the feasibility of trying the plan recently inaugurated in Cleveland, Ohio, where a number of young men and women endeavored for a short time "to live as Christ lived."

This proposal, however, meets with but scanty approval, for, while all ministers agree that such a move might be beneficial to New York's morals, they do not think that it would be effective, in that it would not meet the complexities of the great city. The Rev. Dr. Charles Parkhurst, perhaps, expressed it best by saying that New York was a "complication of peculiarities."

"QUEER" MONEY WAS MADE BY PRISONERS IN THE PEN

Moundsville, W. Va., February 10.—That counterfeiting has been practiced by prisoners in the West Virginia penitentiary were among additional charges filed tonight before the legislative committee investigating the institution, by Delegate Moore.

This charge was sustained by the testimony of Prison Guard Strader, given tonight, that several months ago he found a complete counterfeiting kit in the cell of a prisoner named Jones; that half-dollars were made with it by convicts, many of which had been circulated outside the prison, and that the convicts often indulged in "crap" games, using the spurious coins. Delegate Moore is said to have some of the counterfeit coins in his possession.

An additional charge filed tonight by Mr. Moore is that clothing was removed from dead convicts, who were buried in sheets, and that their burial clothing, paid for by the state, was again sold to the state as new, and given to new prisoners. George Chapman, a convict, testified to giving Joe Bloyd, a guard, $50 to secure him a parole. When the present investigation came up, he says, the warden told him Bloyd had turned over $45 to the prisoner's credit.

EVIDENCE IS CLOSED IN THE SMITH CASE

Argument of Counsel Begins Today—Jury Will Get Case Friday.

Columbus, Miss., February 10.—Late this afternoon the presentation of evidence in the case of C. R. Smith, charged with having murdered E. A. Laurent, was concluded and tomorrow the argument of the opposing counsel will begin. This, it is anticipated, will consume the greater part of two days and the case be given to the jury late Friday.

The defense concluded with the testimony of Dr. J. M. Gulley and Dr. W. W. Hamilton, of Meridian, alienists, who, after answering the long hypothetical questions propounded to other experts, declared the defendant to be a paranaoic.

Dr. Hamilton admitted that the defendant might have known the difference between right and wrong immediately preceding and subsequent to the killing, but at the moment he had no such moral conception.

In rebuttal the state introduced three acquaintances of the defendant who declared they considered him sane.

CORPSE IN THE DEBRIS NOT THAT OF CONSUL

Official of Kaiser Missing and Murder Mystery Is Hinted At.

Santiago, Chile, February 10.—Baron von Bodman, the German minister to Chile, today made the official declaration to the Chilean government that the body of the man found in the ruins of the office of the German legation, destroyed by fire on Friday last, was not that of Chancellor Beckert. This gives the affair a very serious, though not unexpected turn.

The medical examination established the fact yesterday that the man whose body was burned beyond recognition had been murdered, three knife wounds having been discovered. An examination by dentists today proved beyond doubt that the body was that of some one other than Beckert. A servant employed by the legation has been missing since the fire, and it is now believed it was he who was killed. In this connection, an intimate friend of the German chancellor made the statement yesterday that he saw Beckert the day following the fire. A report has reached here that Beckert has been captured at Chillan, the capital of the province of Nuble.

CYCLORAMA AT PARK IS BEING REPAINTED

The cyclorama of the battle of Atlanta, one of the attractions to be seen at Grant Park, is being scoured and repainted. The immense painting is on a sheet of canvas four hundred feet in circumference and fifty feet high, and it will take several months to complete the task.

The contract to do the work has been awarded to H. H. Osgood, teacher of the Atlanta Art school, who commenced work on Tuesday afternoon. The cyclorama is fifteen years old, and during that time it has been cleansed, but never repainted. The park board took the matter up recently and authorized General Manager Dan Carey to have it put in condition.

HE KILLED HIS WIFE AND THEN KILLED SELF

Cupps Also Shot Stepson—Domestic Trouble Caused Tragedy.

Newcastle, Pa., February 10.—Peter Cupps and his wife were found dead in their home tonight when neighbors arrived in response to cries for help of Cupps' stepson, Clyde Warnock, who ran from the house with blood streaming from a wound in his shoulder. Mrs. Cupps was seated in a rocking chair with a bullet hole in her forehead. Cupps was on a couch in an adjoining room, shot above the right eye, while his fingers still clutched a revolver.

Warnock stated that when he returned home from work Cupps was intoxicated and quarreling with his wife. He says he interfered to protect his mother, whereupon Cupps shot him through the shoulder. After he ran from the house he says he heard two shots. Cupps was 60 years old, and, according to the stepson, frequently quarreled with his wife. Warnock is expected to recover.

"OPEN PULPIT" CANON BEFORE THE BISHOPS

One Thousand Episcopal Priests Ask for Its Repeal.

New York, February 10.—"The open pulpit" question involved sixty-one bishops of the Protestant Episcopal church, assembled in special convention of the house of bishops, in a long debate today, in the Church Mission house. The bishops had before them the petition of over a thousand ministers of the church who asked for the repeal of the amendment to canon 19, which gives the bishop of any diocese authority to permit priests of other denominations to preach from Episcopal pulpits. The ministers also asked for an interpretation of the canon, so that it might be uniformly construed throughout the United States.

The bishops adjourned without arriving at any conclusion, and they will again take up the discussion tomorrow. From the divergent opinions expressed after the meeting by some of the bishops, it is regarded as doubtful if any definite ruling will be made at this session.

FIGHT TO REPEAL LOCAL OPTION LAW

County Option Seems To Be Doomed in Indiana.

Democrats Rush Bill Through House, Repealing Present Law and Substituting Township and Ward Local Option.

Indianapolis, Ind., February 10.—The house of representatives this afternoon passed to engrossment both the Kleckner and Proctor-Tomlinson bills which provide for the repeal of the county local option law. The former is the democratic platform bill which substitutes township and ward local option and the latter a compromise measure providing incorporated town and city ward option. The bills are expected to come up for third reading and passage in the house tomorrow.

The Proctor-Tomlinson bill upon which the Democratic repealers have united, was the first considered. The report was rejected by a vote of 54 to 44.

Stormy Scene Followed.

A stormy scene followed an attempt to push the bill to engrossment without opportunity for amendment. Republicans who had stood with the democratic repealers, denounced the attempt, saying the democratic leaders were using "road roller" methods. The motion to pass the bill to engrossment was not taken until late this afternoon after the republicans had inserted minor amendments.

The Kleckner bill, which it had been supposed would be allowed to die in committee, was then brought forth with a vengeance. Democratic champions of the Proctor-Tomlinson bill declared they wished to put temperance democrats who voted to postpone the bill on record. In opposing the compromise bill the temperance democrats had declared it was not a party measure and they were not bound to support it. Nine of the ten democrats who had voted for the postponement of the compromise bill, however, cast similar votes on the Kleckner bill, which the party platform and caucus indorsed.

Iowa Bars Liquor Solicitors.

Des Moines, Iowa, February 10.—Liquor solicitors taking orders for retail quantities to be filled outside the state were barred from Iowa by the Iowa supreme court, in a decision today that reverses the former decision of the court and again puts in force the statute which was before held to be unconstitutional. Besides forbidding the actual taking of retail quantity orders in either wet or dry counties, the decision was held by Attorney General Byers to apply to the mail order business.

Local Option in West Virginia.

Charleston, W. Va., February 10.—The Craig local option bill passed the senate today by a vote of 17 to 11. The measure provides that if a county votes dry, any city in that county of over 2,000 population remains "wet" until said city itself shall vote out saloons. On the other hand, if the county votes wet, the whole county shall be wet.

The bill now goes to the assembly which body has already adopted a resolution providing for the submission of a prohibition amendment to the constitution.

SEPARATED FOR 35 YEARS HUSBAND AND WIFE REMARRY

Birmingham, Ala., February 10.—(Special.)—After separation of 35 years, Major Charles Wheelock, prominent citizen of Birmingham, and Mrs. Eliza Wheelock, who has been living for many years in California, were re-married in Birmingham today.

Mr. and Mrs. Wheelock were first wedded in Los Vegas, Mexico, more than fifty years ago. Four children were born to the couple, the oldest of which is fifty years of age. Mr. and Mrs. Wheelock were separated 35 years ago, the husband coming to Birmingham, and the wife going to California, where she lived before the marriage.

In Birmingham, about 20 years ago, Mr. Wheelock again took a wife whose death occurred about 12 years ago. Since that time the children have endeavored to bring their parents together, and their wishes were realized today. Major Wheelock is one of the prominent citizens of Birmingham and the romance has proved a matter of exceeding interest here.

HE WAS SENTENCED TO JAIL AND TO MARRY INDIAN GIRL

Helena, Mont., February 10.—Thomas Hanby, a former South Carolinian, was today made the recipient in the federal court here of what is regarded as the most remarkable sentence on record.

Hanby, convicted on a bigamy charge, was not only fined $100 and sent to jail for six months, but was also sentenced to marry an Indian woman.

Hanby's first wife, learning of his marriage to pretty Mary La Brecka, a Blackfoot maiden, secured his indictment, and then a legal separation for herself. Because of the first marriage, the second marriage was declared void. Judge Hunt not only imposed the sentence indicated, but instructed the United States marshal to see that the marriage was carried out immediately, and this was done, a justice of the peace uniting the couple. Hanby made no protest.

BEAKER OF RARE WINE EMPTIED BY THE KING

King Edward the Guest of the Municipality of Berlin.

Berlin, February 10.—King Edward is today enjoying the distinction of being the first foreign monarch who ever has been the guest of the Berlin municipality.

Shortly before noon his majesty, dressed in the uniform of a Prussian general, proceeded in an automobile to the town hall, where Mayor Kirschner and the other members of the city government greeted him. The king was then escorted to the spacious public reception hall. Here an assemblage of several hundred persons awaited.

According to the expressed wish of King Edward, no speeches were made. Herr Kirschner asked the king to accept a drink of honor from the city in a golden cup, and his majesty, answering in the affirmative, the mayor's daughter handed him the beaker filled with rare wine, which King Edward emptied.

Her majesty, the queen, also was present at the luncheon, and the guests included Chancellor von Buelow and his wife, Foreign Secretary von Schoon, and all the foreign ambassadors in Berlin, including David Jayne Hill, the American ambassador, and Mrs. Hill.

SPANKED ROOSEVELT IN HIS BOYHOOD DAYS

Man Who Administered the Spanking Tells the Story.

Greely, Col., February 10.—Ernest Minckwitz, formerly chemist in the Windsor sugar factory, enjoys the distinction of being the only man in Colorado who spanked Theodore Roosevelt, when the latter was a boy. He says President Roosevelt was 14 years old, his mother placed him in the Minckwitz family at Dresden, Germany, to learn German. One day young Roosevelt put on some boxing gloves and gave the German lad a punch, saying: "This is the way we do it in America."

Whereupon the stout German lad took him across his knee and administered a spanking, saying: "This is the way we do it in Germany."

Minckwitz says that three years ago he was at the white house, and President Roosevelt recalled the incident.

TAINTED MONEY USED BY THE REPUBLICANS

Bryan Says G. O. P. Dares Not Publish Contributions to Congressional Fund.

Pensacola, Fla., February 10.—William Jennings Bryan, in a speech here last night said:

"The country need not hope for a revision of the tariff at the hands of the present congress. The republicans cannot afford to lower the tariff; every man who has a schedule has cotnributed to their campaign fund, and must be protected. It is true that the contributions to the national fund were published, but moneys received by the congressional fund were so tainted that the republicans dared not publish them, even after the election."

$136,825,199 ASKED TO SUPPORT NAVY

Provision Made for Two 26,000-Ton Ships.

Commission Is Also Provided for to Consider Reorganization of Navy Department. Office of Vice Admiral Made.

Washington, February 10.—Senator Hale, chairman of the committee on naval affairs, today reported to the senate the bill making appropriations for the support of the navy. It carries $136,825,199, an increase of $1,058,428 over the amount carried by the bill as it was passed by the house.

No change was made in the item providing for the construction of two 26,000-ton battleships. The senate committee provided that no part of the appropriation for the marine corps may be expended unless the corps is continued in service as heretofore on battleships, cruisers and other naval vessels.

Naval Commission.

The recommendation of Secretary of the Navy Newberry for the appointment of a commission to reconsider the reorganization of the navy department in order to provide for the best preparedness in case of war was adopted by the committee.

The commission is to consist of three senators, three representatives, three rear admirals, with at least one on the active list; and three eminent civilians to be appointed by the president.

The office of vice admiral on the retiring list is created, which it is understood is in the interest of Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans.

Provision is made for the appointment of a commission by the secretary of the navy to investigate and report to congress the advisability and necessity of establishing a naval base, including a navy yard and repair station on the California state coast.

There is also an amendment requiring that prisoners discharged from naval prisons shall be furnished with civilian clothing, and others authorizing the employment of fifteen contract dental surgeons, and striking out the provision which requires the secretary of the navy to submit to congress statements of amounts expended for repairs which have been made to ships.

Some Increases.

Some of the more important increases in appropriations are as follows:

For the Mare Island navy yard, $224,000, of which $100,000 is for the improvement in the channel and $100,000 for ordnance stores.

For Puget sound, $237,000, to be used largely for the extension of the repair shops at Bremerton navy yard.

A provision was inserted in the bill authorizing the secretary of the navy to investigate the subject of acquiring all or part of the Jamestown exposition grounds at Norfolk, Va., to be used as a site for a naval training station.

The committee restored to the bill the provision adopted by the house committee on naval affairs, which was stricken out on the house floor, for the construction of three subsurface boats. The provision limiting the price to be paid for any collier to $900,000 was stricken out of the bill.

An appropriation was recommended for the purchase of land at Charleston, S. C., for the marine corps.

SHE LEAPED TO DEATH.

Denver, Colo., February 10.—In an effort to destroy herself, Miss Violet Brierly, aged 28, leaped from a window on the sixth floor of the Mining Exchange building today, landing among a throng of horrified spectators, in Sixteenth street.

The girl was picked up unconscious. In a pocket was found a note directing that communication should be had with "C. M. W., a civil engineer," in case of her death.

WAR PORTFOLIO FOR DICKINSON

Tennessee Democrat to Succeed Wright.

Dickinson Is General Counsel of the Illinois Central Railroad—He Was Born in Mississippi and Is a Confederate Veteran.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, February 10.—(Special.)—It is announced here tonight on what appears excellent authority that Jacob McGavock Dickinson, a Tennessee democrat, will be offered the post of secretary of war in the cabinet of President Taft.

Mr. Dickinson is an eminent lawyer. At present he is general counsel of the Illinois Central railroad. Two years ago he was elected president of the American Bar Association to succeed Judge Alton B. Parker. By special commission he served several times on the supreme court bench of Tennessee, and in 1895-97 he was assistant attorney general of the United States.

Connected With Illinois Central.

The fact that he is a railroad attorney has not affected Mr. Taft in selecting him for an important cabinet post. Mr. Dickinson has been connected with the legal department of the Illinois Central for ten years. The change in the management of that railroad from Mr. Fish to Mr. Harriman did not affect his standing in the slightest. He held the confidence and regard of both railway magnates, antagonistic though they were.

Judge Dickinson won considerable reputation by his work before the Alaskan boundary tribunal of 1903, in which he was of counsel for the United States. He was paid a high tribute by the lord chief justice of England, Baron Alverston, who voted with the American commissioners.

Dickinson Born in Mississippi.

Born in Columbus, Miss., Judge Dickinson at fourteen entered the confederate service. He married and spent most of his life in Tennessee. He is a graduate of the University of Nashville. He studied law at Columbia college, New York; the University of Leipsig and at Paris.

It is probable that the profound legal attainments of Judge Dickinson and the fact that he was a representative southerner was what decided the president-elect to make him an offer of a cabinet post.

Judge Dickinson's father was an eminent lawyer in his day and a delegate to the secession convention of Delaware.

Luke E. Wright, of Tennessee, the present secretary of war, will not be in the new cabinet. The only holdover, from present indication, is George von L. Meyer and probably Secretary of Agriculture Wilson. The latter's post for a considerable time was in doubt. Indeed, it was thought for a time that Mr. Taft would start with an entirely clean slate.

GEORGIA DIOCESE HOLDS 87th ANNUAL CONVENTION

Bishop Reese Too Ill to Attend Meetings—Rev. Charles H. Strong Presides.

Savannah, Ga., February 10.—(Special.)—On account of the ill health of Bishop F. F. Reese, Rev. Charles H. Strong, who next to Bishop Reese seemed most likely to be put at the head of the diocese of Georgia when the state was divided into two Episcopal dioceses, will preside at most of the meetings of the eighty-seventh annual convention of the diocese which began its sessions here this morning.

Rev. Samuel F. French, of Waycross, is secretary, and Rev. H. L. Durrant, of Savannah, assistant. The convention sermon was preached by Rev. S. B. Carpenter, of Augusta. Luncheon was served for the convention delegates at Bannon's Lodge, Thunderbolt. The sessions are being held in Christ church, of which Rev. Francis Alan Brown is rector.

Fleming, of the eastern brigade at Augusta. He will accept the honor with the vetreans of the Georgia division and will doubtless prove one of the most faithful in the entire service.

RAINEY IS ADDED TO ANANIAS CLUB

For His Speech in Regard to the Panama Situation.

Rainey Says It Is Easy to Get Into the Ananias Club—All That's Necessary Is to Disagree With Roosevelt.

Washington, February 10.—Representative Rainey, of Illinois, whose speech in the house on the Panama canal purchase has drawn forth a rebuke from the state department in an official reply to the Panama government's protest, was inclined today to assume that he had been elected to the "Ananias Club."

This was based on the statement in Secretary Bacon's letter as to the president's view of Mr. Rainey's speech. Mr. Rainey made a statement today in which he said that he did not expect President Obaldia, of Panama, or President Roosevelt, of the United States, to agree with him. He added that it was only necessary to arrive at some fact uncomplimentary to the present administration, to be elected to the "Ananias Club," provided the candidate had the courage to make the facts public.

In his statement, Representative Rainey said:

"I seem to have been elected a member of the 'Ananias Club' at sight. I am accepting with becoming modesty, with due honor. Better men than I belong to this distinguished organization. In view of the very large membership the organization has at present, it is not as much of an honor to belong to it as it was three or four years ago. On account of the fact, however, that there may not be as many additions to the 'Ananias Club' after the 4th of March as there has been in the recent past, and on account of the fact that so many distinguished citizens belong to this organization, I am very glad to be admitted now to membership.

"Within the last three weeks I have been denounced by the general assembly of Panama, and also elected to membership in the 'Ananias Club, which ought to be honors enough for one session of congress.

"I did not expect President Obaldia and his administration to agree with my estimate of him, and I did not expect the president of the United States to agree with me in my estimate of him.

"The requirements of membership in the 'Ananias Club' are exceedingly simple, and I wonder that more do not accept the opportunity to join. In order to be entitled to membership, it is only necessary to be industrious, to exercise diligence and to arrive at some facts not complimentary to the present administration. In addition to this, you must also have the courage to make the facts you have ascertained public."

SENATE INVESTIGATING CHARGE OF LOBBYING

Many Petitions Being Received Eulogizing Senator Thomas for His Stand.

Austin, Tex., February 10.—The senate of the Texas legislature today resolved itself into a committee of the whole to pass upon the charges made by Senator Bascom Thomas on Monday that the lobbyists here at the capitol were so numerous and so vigorous in their efforts to defeat legislation affecting corporations that they were intimidating and embarrassing members of the senate.

A general investigation has been ordered and been gone into this afternoon. Many petitions are beginning to arrive eulogizing Thomas for his speech, stating that the mass of the people believe there is some foundation in the charges.

ARE YOUR KIDNEYS WEAK?

Thousands of Men and Women Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It.

Nature warns you when the track of health is not clear. Kidney and bladder trouble compel you to pass water often through the day and get up many times during the night.

Unhealthy kidneys cause lumbago, rheumatism, catarrh of the bladder, pain or dull ache in the back, joints or muscles, at times have headache or indigestion, as time passes you may have a sallow complexion, puffy or dark circles under the eyes, sometimes feel as though you had heart trouble, may have plenty of ambition, but no strength, get weak and waste away.

If such conditions are permitted to continue, serious results are sure to follow; Bright's disease, the very worst form of kidney trouble, may steal upon you.

Prevalency of Kidney Disease.

Most people do not realize the alarming increase and remarkable prevalency of kidney disease. While kidney disorders are the most common diseases that prevail, they are almost the last recognized by patient and physicians, who content themselves with doctoring the effects, while the original disease undermines the system.

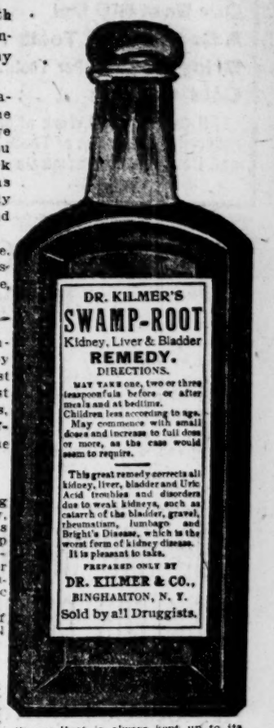

A Trial Will Convince Anyone.

If you are sick or feeling badly, begin taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, because as soon as your kidneys begin to get better, they will help the other organs to health. In taking Swamp-Root, you afford natural help to Nature, for Swamp-Root is a gentle healing vegetable compound—a physician's prescription for a specific disease.

You cannot get rid of your aches and pains if your kidneys are out of order. You cannot feel right when your kidneys are wrong.

Swamp-Root Is Pleasant to Take.

If you are already convinced that Swamp-Root is what you need, you can purchase the regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles at all drug stores. Don't make any mistake but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., which you will find on every bottle.

BLOODY RIOTS MARK CAMPAIGN IN MEXICO

Anti-Federalists Being Arrested and Shot in State of Moretos.

Mexico City, February 10.—Following the riots in the state of Moretos, where several men were killed and injured, the Mexican government has made a number of arrests, all followers of Patrico Leyva, the anti-federal candidate for governor of the state. Leyva has been dismissed from his government position. Inspector of the Irrigation Department Pomento and many of his followers have been charged with sedition.

The president and secretary of the Free Suffrage Club at Jojutla and the president and vice president of a similar club at Tlaquiltenango have been put in jail on this charge. Many others have been arrested in different parts of the state, including a number of women. Some of these latter, it is said, merely shouted, "Viva Leyva."

The Mexican Herald is outspoken in the declaration of the sentiment that a majority of the people of the state favor Leyva.

"To understand the situation," The Herald says, "it is necessary to know the history of Mexico and the sufferings of the people at the hands of the Spanish landlords. This condition is more in evidence in Moratos than in almost any other state, and Leyva represents the people aligned against this rule."

MacVeagh May Be in Cabinet.

Chicago, February 10.—As George M. Reynolds is out of the field for the position of secretary of the treasury of the United States, the name of Franklin MacVeagh, of this city, will probably be presented to President-elect Taft. Mr. MacVeagh is a brother of Wayne MacVeagh, of Pennsylvania. He is a prominent merchant of this city, but has taken an active interest in politics.

Shot Dead in Court.

Calcutta, February 10.—Ashutosh Biswas, a public prosecutor, was shot dead today in a court at Alipur, a suburb, by a youthful Bengali. Biswas was the official who prosecuted the recent anarchist conspiracy case. This revival of assassination has caused a sensation. The murderer was arrested.

AT POINT OF PISTOL SHERIFF DEFIES MOB

Two Negroes Placed in Nashville for Safe Keeping. Narrow Escape.

Nashville, Tenn., February 10.—Two negroes were brought here last night and placed in jail to escape mob violence. Alexander Whiteside was brought in from Gallatin, 26 miles north of here by the sheriff of Sumner county, to escape a mob which had been formed to lynch him. Whiteside is charged with having seriously cut Deputy Sheriff Durham.

Early this morning the sheriff arrived here with John Woodfolk, the negro who several days ago shot and killed Charles Nunly, a white man, near Riddleton, Tenn. When the sheriff with his prisoner reached Gallatin a deputation of twenty-five men demanded the negro. The officer replied: "You will have to hang me before you get this nigger."

While the men were in consultation the train for Nashville whistled, and the mob made a rush for the negro, but the sheriff, with drawn revolvers, succeeded in getting his man on board the train, later landing him safely in the Nashville jail.

No Choice in Wisconsin.

Madison, Wis., February 10.—The ninth joint ballot for United States senator in the Wisconsin legislature today resulted in no choice, Senator Stephenson lacking five of election.

Two Victims of Guillotine.

Albi, France, February 10.—A double execution was carried out publicly in Albi this morning in the presence of an immense, but orderly, gathering of people. There was considerable opposition to the execution and it was expressed during the night by a crowd of workingmen who paraded the streets of Albi singing revolutionary songs.

Liquor Bill Voted Down.

Washington, February 10.—The house committee on alcoholic liquors traffic today voted down the Bennett bill, providing for a commission to collect information regarding the liquor traffic in this country and to recommend to congress any needful legislation. The vote in the committee was 5 to 4 against the bill.

Weak Over-worked Women

Who are broken down and made invalids by the drudgery of never ending household cares and duties, or by over-frequent bearing and nursing of childern, and many other cares, burdens and strains which the weaker sex have to bear, are deserving of profound sympathy. But while sympathy is commendable what these unfortunate women most need is a good, honest, square-deal Restorative Tonic and Strength-giving Nervine and Regulator—one compounded and carefully adapted to act in harmony with woman's peculiar, delicate, ever sensitive organization.

Who so well fitted to select, carefully proportion the ingredients and compound a remedy for the cure of these distressing and often pain-wracking weaknesses and derangements, as the carefully and thoroughly educated and regularly graduated physician who has had a long and successful experience in treating just this class of cases.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

THIS MEDICINE IS

THE ONE REMEDY Now, and for over 40 years, sold by druggists for Woman's Peculiar Weaknesses, and Distressing Ailments, gotten up by one having all of the above qualifications.

THE ONE REMEDY which absolutely contains neither alcohol (which to most Women is rank poison) nor injurious or habit-forming drugs.

THE ONE REMEDY which is so perfect in its composition and so good in its curative effects as to warrant its makers in printing its every ingredient, as they do, on its outside wrapper, verifying the same under solemn oath.

In all the above most important particulars, the "Favorite Prescription" stands absolutely alone—in a class all by itself—as woman's most reliable and trust-worthy remedy in time of sickness and distress. It is a pure glyceric extract made from American curative roots, found by long time experience most valuable in curing woman's weaknesses and derangements. The leaders in all schools of medical practice have endorsed each of its ingredients as of the best known remedies for the complicated affections for which it is recommended. These professional endorsements should count for far more than any number of lay testimonials. A booklet full of them sent free on receipt of name and address.

FOR ABDUCTION OF HUSBAND JURY GIVES WIFE $30,000

Jackson, Miss., February 10.—A special from Decatur, Miss., says that the jury in the case of Mrs. Mamie Dupriest Sivley against Mrs. W. Baker Sivley returned a verdict today awarding the plaintiff $30,00 damages for the abduction of her husband and the alienation of his affections.

The parties in the litigation reside in Jackson, the Sivley family being one of the most prominent in the state. The plaintiff in the case was married to W. S. Sivley, Jr., a boy 20 years of age, and in the suit just closed his young wife alleged that Mrs. Baker Sivley deliberately connived to separate them, carrying her son away to North Carolina.

COBB AND IRWIN ASK FOR CONVICTS

Hancock County Dropped Out on Last Day for Requisition.

The time expired yesterday for counties desiring to take convicts from the state for road duty, to make requisition for them.

The total was increased by one bringing the number which have applied for convicts up to 103. Cobb and Irwin counties were added to the list, while Hancock county dropped out. Cobb will get twenty convicts, and Irwin seven.

It is an interesting fact that not one of the twenty-nine counties which have been working short-term state convicts under the old law for the last five years, is willing to give them up. Every one of these has put in a requisition for its full quota, and most of them for extras, under the new plans of distribution.

Information has reached the commission to the effect that the authorities in a number of counties which have placed requisitions for convicts expect the state to deliver the men to them on April 1, or shortly thereafter.

This, it should be clearly understood, is not the case. Each county, through its county commissioners, will be supplied with an order for the convicts awarded to it within the next thirty days, and it will have to send for the men to the camp designated and make its own arrangements for their transportation to the county seat.

The commission will endeavor, as nearly as it can do so, to assign to each county men from a camp as near as possible to the county to be supplied.

ANCILLARY BILLS FILED

By Contractors Having Claims Against A., B. & A.

An ancillary bill touching the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic litigation was filed yesterday in the United States court wherein the claims of contractors who have done construction work and are yet working for the road are presented with the request of the parties interested that the federal court look after their interests in the adjudication of the case.

The Lane Brothers, contractors of Virginia; the Callahan Construction Company, of Tennessee; C. D. Smith Company, of Tennessee, and the American Bridge Company are the claimants. In the bill on file the specific work each of the contracting firms did is fully shown and then the amount said to be due each by the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic is set out. Smith & Company set up a claim for $136,650; the Lane Brothers $109,000; the Callahan Construction Company $85,000, and the American Bridge Company $55,000. The paper will be referred to the special master in the case.

Postoffice Site Selected.

Dublin, Ga., February 10.—(Special.)—The site of the new federal building seems to be settled at last. The location has been decided on at the corner of Franklin and Madison streets, near the cotton compress. Mayor Phillips received a telegram today from Congressman Brantley, in which he stated that Assistant Secretary Winthrop, of the treasury department, had announced that the question had been closed and could not be opened again.

NO MEDICINE

But a Change of Food Gave Relief.

Many persons are learning that drugs are not the thing to rebuild worn out nerves, but proper food is required.

There is a certain element in the cereals, wheat, barley, etc., which is grown there by nature for food to brain and nerve tissue. This is the phosphate of potash, of which Grape-Nuts food contains a large proportion.

In making this food all the food elements in the two cereals, wheat and barley, are retained. That is why so many heretofore nervous and run down people find in Grape-Nuts a true nerve and brain food.

"I can say that Grape-Nuts food has done much for me as a nerve renewer," writes a Wis. bride:

"A few years ago, before my marriage, I was a bookkeeper in a large firm. I became so nervous toward the end of each week that it seemed I must give up my position, which I could not afford to do.

"Mother purchased some Grape-Nuts and we found it not only delicious, but I noticed from day to day that I was improving, until I finally realized that I was not nervous any more.

"I have recommended it to friends as a brain and nerve food, never having found its equal. I owe much to Grape-Nuts, as it saved me from a nervous collapse, and enabled me to retain my position."

WAREHOUSES HAVE BEEN AMALGAMATED

Will Be Managed by Board of Control--Uniform Prices to Prevail.

The one hundred or more Farmers' Union cotton warehouses scattered throughout Georgia, heretofore working separately and independently, have been amalgamated and will soon pass under the management of a single board of control.

It was Charles S. Barrett, president of the National Farmers' Union, who brought about the plan of concentration and the half of his good work has not been completed, as he is now working to accomplish similar results in other southern states.

Once each of the states has pooled its warehouses then will come an effort to combine the various states under one management, thereby giving the planter absolute and complete control of his cotton.

Some four or five years ago planters in various sections got together and caused to be constructed a warehouse in which the entire crop of those interested was housed to await a selling price satisfactory to the holders. But it soon developed that there was little comity of interest among the various warehouses in any section. While one would hold, another would probably sell, thereby nullifying the very plan for which the warehouses were first contemplated.

It didn't take President Barrett long to see the trouble and it was then he got busy. Mr. Barrett quickly discovered that the key to the situation was the amalgamation of the various warehouses under a single control. In that way only was it possible, he figured, for a firm stand for satisfactory prices to be obtained. By the amalgamation no one warehouse could sell while another held. Quietly President Barrett went to work and the result is that in several states he has brought about a comity of interest and intent, the same as that attained in Georgia.

Mr. Barrett yesterday announced that he had brought about a consolidation of the warehouses in the state. Within a short time those interested in the movement in Georgia will place their combined interests in the hands of a board of control, with a president, secretary and treasurer. Speaking of the work accomplished, Mr. Barrett yesterday said:

There can be no question as to the complete success of the movement. I have been working on this plan for months, but have kept silent until I saw my dream fully realized. Hundreds of warehouses have been built by the Farmers' Union over the south. There can be no question as to the great help they have been to the farmer, but lack of concerted action among all the warehouses has served to defeat somewhat our larger aims. I saw that there must be cooperation, concert of action. I began work then on forming each state into one organization, to be controlled by a board of directors.

We have practically perfected the plan and here in Georgia everything has worked out harmoniously. We will shortly elect officers and a board of control. Two-thirds of the other states have taken hold of the project and there is no doubt of complete success now.

It is the greatest movement for the farmer this country ever saw. It means that the cotton growers will absolutely control his output.

TWO PRISONERS ESCAPE FROM MARIETTA JAIL

Were Captured Yesterday Afternoon—Used Saws for Dash to Freedom.

Marietta, Ga., February 10.—(Special.) Fletcher Howell, a white man, charged with larceny, and John Heard, a negro, charged with assault with attempt to murder, lodged in different cells of the jail, sawed their way out early this morning at the same time. Both were caught late in the afternoon by Sheriff McKinney at Kennesaw, Ga.

Deputy Sheriff J. H. Kincaid, a brother-in-law of Sheriff McKinney, was awakened by the sound of the two saws going at the same time, but not knowing the status of affairs called out for the prisoners to keep quiet, and dozed off to sleep again.

The white man and negro, gaining their liberty at the same time and in a similar manner without the other's knowledge, became friends on the spot, and made off in the same direction. Their escape was soon discovered by Sheriff McKinney, who after searching all day, finally located the two prisoners in Kennesaw, Ga. Howell was in the home of his brother at that place, calmly shaving himself when the posse arrived, but surrendered quietly. Heard, the negro, was found in the immediate neighborhood.

A new trial had been granted Howell a few days ago by the court of appeals. Both were returned to their cells.

Bridge Over Chattahoochee.

Whitesburg, Ga., February 10.—(Special.)—Considerable interest is being manifested in the proposed steel bridge across the Chattahoochee river near Whitesburg. The river is the dividing line between the two counties, Carroll and Coweta. It is expected that the authorities in the two counties will soon take the matter up for consideration.

SHERIFF IS ACCUSED OF AIDING THE MOB

Government Files Brief In the Shipp Case.

In Concluding It Says Sheriff, Judge and Solicitor Did Not See Fit to Stop Lynching of Negro.

Chattanooga, Tenn., February 10.—Copies of the government's brief in the case of the United States of America versus J. F. Shipp et al., being the prosecution on the information in contempt filed in July, 1906, in connection with the lynching of Ed Johnson, a negro, were received here today. It is the closing of the government's case, and is a strong accusation against the sheriff, Judge J. G. McReynolds, of the criminal court, and Attorney General M. N. Whitaker. As to these three, the brief says:

"Little need be said about the testimony of Whitaker, who prosecuted Johnson, and MacReynolds, who sat as judge at his trial. Their desire to prosecute Shipp is manifest. They are also evidently endeavoring by their testimony to justify their own actions on the night of the lynching and especially their neglect to make any attempt to identify any of the lynchers, even as they did not see fit to attempt to stop the lynching.

They testify that at about the time the mob entered the jail, they were a few blocks from the jail, and apprehended that there was a mob for Johnson. For more than half an hour before the mob came out of the jail with Johnson, they were in the county court house, about 25 feet from the jail, etc.

"Only one conclusion can be drawn," says the brief: 'Shipp not only made the work of the mob easy, but aided and abetted it. The motive for his actions is found in his desire to avoid criticism by a certain element in the community and obtain votes for his reelection."

The brief, a document of sixty printed pages, is signed by Charles J. Bonaparte, attorney general; Henry M. Hoyt, solicitor general, and Edwin W. Lawrence, special assistant to the attorney general.

Reply briefs will be prepared at once by the defense. It is only about two weeks until the final hearing.

HARDWICK WAS HALTED BY CAPITOL OFFICERS

Georgian Taken for Boy and for Time Refused Admittance to House.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, February 10.—(Special.)—Representative Tom Hardwick, of Georgia, had a hard time gaining admission to the exercises which marked the count of electoral votes. When the representative from the tenth Georgia district arrived and attempted to pass into the house, he was stopped by an alert capitol policeman.

"Where is your ticket?" demanded the officer.

The congressman was compelled to confess that he had no ticket.

"Well, you don't get by here," said the guard.

"But I have been a member of this house for six years," indignantly replied the Georgia congressman.

The guard withdrew his restraining hand and was profuse in apologies and Mr. Hardwick passed to his seat.

"I thought he was a boy," ejaculated the guard.

COUNCIL OF LABOR TALKS OF IDLE MEN

Union Chief in Conference With Sec. Straus.

Gompers Says Congress Aids Italian 'Quake Victims, But Does Nothing for Millions of Unemployed in America.

Washington, February 10.—Many prominent labor leaders participated in a "council of labor" at the department of commerce and labor today, and discussed questions of vital interest to the wage earners of the country, including the problem of the unemployed.

The meeting was called at the instance of Secretary of Commerce and Labor Straus.

The problems discussed included legislation to extend the steamboat inspection service to the inspection of locomotive boilers, and consideration of statistics of emigration in connection with immigration.

Suggestions by Straus.

In addressing the conference, Secretary Straus suggested that the labor leaders make a formal statement of the labor conditions in the United States for distribution, through United States consuls in foreign countries. This, he believed, would discourage that type of immigration for which there is no room in this country. He urged that railroad locomotive boilers be placed, by law, under supervision of the steamboat inspection service.

The speakers included President Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor; Grand Chief Stone, of the Locomotive Engineers; William E. Yates, president of the Marine Engineers' Beneficial Association; John Mitchell, former president of the United Mine Workers of America, and Timothy Healy, president of the International Brotherhood of Stationary Engineers.

Nearly 2,000,000 Men Idle.

Mr. Gompers pointed out that nearly 2,000,000 laborers, who previous to October, 1907, had been employed, now were walking the streets. Congress, he said, had provided instant relief for the Italian sufferers by the Italian earthquake, but when relief is asked for American laborers, it is styled paternalism and is given no consideration.

John Mitchell said that from two to five million men in this country are now unemployed. He discussed the problem of immigration, pointing out that too often the man who arrived in this country yesterday got a job, while the man who had spent his life in this country, was walking the streets.

The conference will continue tomorrow.

CITY'S NEW PUMP WAS INSPECTED

Mr. Inman Secures Services of Expert.

Engine Is at Corliss, Wis., and Is Reported First-Class—Water Pump Has Been Erected in Atlanta—Inman Makes a Statement.

Atlanta's new pump, about which so much has been said and written, has been thoroughly inspected by an expert mechanic, and his report to Hugh T. Inman, who bought the pump for Atlanta, is highly satisfactory.

There are two sections to this pump, one through which the water is pumped, and this part has been erected at Hemphill station; the other section, or the engine, has been put together at Corliss, Wis., by the Wisconsin Engine Company, and it is this part that has been inspected by the expert, George Bertram.

Mr. Inman has been furnished with a written report by Mr. Bertram, and with photographs of the engine, one of which is reproduced in The Constitution. Mr. Inman said yesterday:

"There has been so much said about the pump and the Wisconsin Engine Company was so anxious about securing the two unpaid notes before the pump was finished and tested that I secured the services of George Bertram, a highly skilled and competent mechanic, and requested him to inspect the pump for me. He spent two weeks at Corliss and was afforded every facility and extended every courtesy by the Wisconsin Engine Company to thoroughly inspect the engine. The company went so far as to furnish him with a set of photographs made of the engine as it now stands in the company's shops. Mr. Bertram's written report will show the result of his inspection."

The report of Mr. Bertram is as follows:

Mr. Hugh T. Inman, Atlanta, Ga.—Dear Sir: Pursuant to your instructions I arrived here January 25 at noon and proceeded at once to the shops of the Wisconsin Engine Company, and after presenting your letter was shown the steam end of the Atlanta pump.

I found the bed plate, columns, guides, cam shafts and gallery plates, etc., had been lined up and erected, the crank shaft had been in and the bearings scraped to fit, and they were preparing to put up the cylinders, receivers, etc.

I found the work on the larger parts well advanced, the fly wheels were practically finished, also the crank shaft. The stretcher rods that go between the cross-heads and pump plungers are all finished; the valve motion work is all finished and has only to be put in place; there is still some work to be done on the eccentrics and connecting rods and connecting rod brasses; also some work on the valves.

Since I came here the cylinders and steam receiver have been put in place and lined, and some of the top gallery plates fitted; also a good deal of the pipe work has been done and most of the valve gear put in place.

On examining the high pressure cylinder I found the upper flange of the outside shell rather dirty, and one blow hole in it; I was informed that there had been a steam pressure of 100 pounds on this cylinder, and it showed no leakage whatever; this being the case, from a mechanical standpoint, I do not attach any special importance to this particular defect; otherwise the cylinder is perfect. The intermediate steam cylinder has no plugs or blow holes in it, and is perfect in every detail; the low pressure cylinder, which is 94 inches in diameter, has a variation of fourteen one-thousandths of an inch in diameter, which is very little for so large a shell. The inside shell of the low pressure cylinder has eleven plugs in it; this also is not unusual for a cylinder this size, especially as these are all semi-steel castings; the material used in these cylinders shows up well; it is close grained, clean and hard enough for good wearing qualities; the material used throughout this engine is first-class and the workmanship is good. In fact, comparing this pump with the one installed at Milwaukee by this company, it looks as if they had made a special effort to do a good job. The cylinder jacket is now being fitted and the cylinders have to be lagged; also there is quite a good deal of pipe work to be done, and taking everything into consideration, the engine is 90 per cent complete.

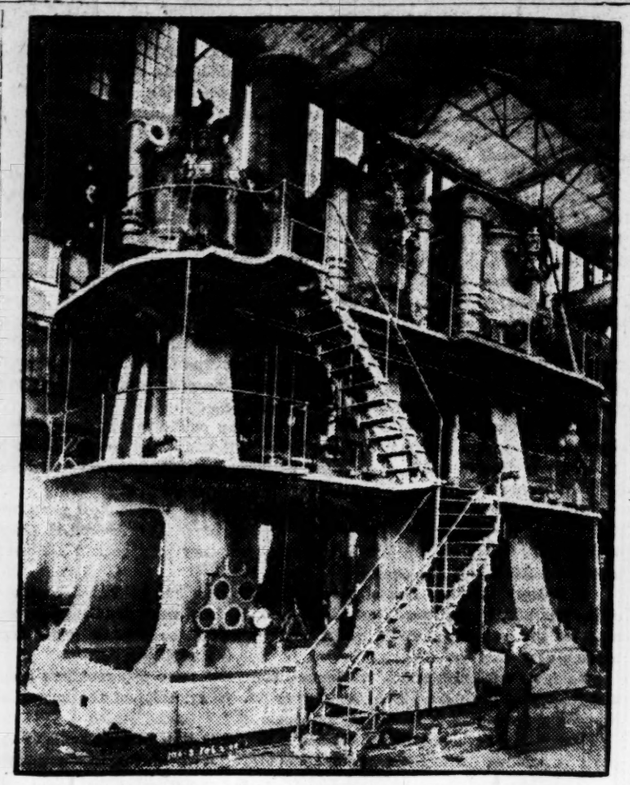

On the 3rd I went to Milwaukee and looked over the pump there; this is supposed to be a duplicate of the Atlanta pump. Everything seemed to be running in very nice shape for a new pump, and the chief engineer expressed himself as being very well satisfied, and was getting everything in shape for the final test. The confruction of this pump, however, is very much lighter than the one for Atlanta and the design is a little different.

Regarding the time of shipment I do not see anything to prevent the Wisconsin Engine Company being able to commence shipping by March 1 easily, as they are pushing the work as fast as possible. Their machine men are working eight hours per day, but the erecting men on the Atlanta pump are working ten hours. Yours respectfully,

GEORGE BERTRAM.

Corliss, Wis., February 4, 1909.

The new pump has been named the "W. R. Joyner," and it cost $135,000. On account of an effort made to enjoin the city from buying the pump on credit, Mr. Inman bought the pump for Atlanta and executed three notes of something over $44,000 each. The first note was paid on January 1. Mr. Inman says he will surrender the other two notes as soon as the entire pump is erected in Atlanta and stands the test.

PROF. WELBOURN SPEAKS.

Celebrated Scientist's Subject, "In the Year 2000."

One of the most timely lectures to be delivered in Atlanta this season will be that of Professor Reno B. Welbourn, at the Central Congregational church tonight. His subject, "In the Year Two Thousand," will lift the veil which hides the mystic future and reveals marvels of scientific wonder.

Mr. Webourn being one of the foremost scientists of the day, is well equipped to lead people into the realm where dreams become real. He has appeared in all the large cities of thirty-five states and Canada, and the universal verdict of his audiences has been that he is the one scientific lecturer to make profound thought interesting.

His experiments are wonderful in the extreme. They are numerous, quickly done and stunning in their import. His lecture begins at 8:30, and those who will hear him may anticipate a pleasant and profitable time.

WEALTHY PLANTER SHOT.

Wilbur Hudson, of Fredonia, Being Pursued by Officers.

West Point, Ga., February 10.—This morning, at Adams station, on the Chattahoochee Valley railroad, Bob Adams, planter, was fatally shot by Wilbur Hudson, of Fredonia, a sawmill owner and ginner. Two shots struck Adams. The parties refuse to reveal the cause of the trouble.

Officers are in pursuit of Hudson, and physicians have been hurried to the wounded man.

May Contest Election.

Perry, Ga., February 10.—(Special.)—At noon today the precinct returns were consolidated at Perry for the democratic primary election to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Ordinary-elect S. J. Hose. P. H. Skellie was nominated by a plurality of 14 votes. It is reported that S. T. Hurst will contest the election on the grounds that P. H. Skellie did not get a majority of the votes.

CONGRESSMAN HOWARD TO BE LINCOLN ORATOR

Georgian Will Make Address at Decatur, Ill., on February 12.

Washington, February 10.—(Special.)—Hon. William M. Howard, of the eighth Georgia district, has gone to Decatur, Ill., where, at the invitation of Congressman McKinley, of that district, he will deliver the Lincoln anniversary address on the birthday of Abraham Lincoln, on February 12.

The celebration in Danville will be quite a unique one, as that city is closely associated with the political and professional career of Lincoln.

After the Danville celebration on the morning of the 12th, Congressman Howard will go to Springfield as the guest of the state celebration committee—the ceremonies at Springfield being not only of state-wide, but of national interest.

Of the hundreds of Lincoln functions that will take place at that time, probably the most interesting will be that at the Illinois capital.

TWELVE JURORS IN BOX FOR THE CALHOUN TRIAL

But Peremptory Challenges Are Yet to Be Made—Heney Is Ill.

San Francisco, February 10.—After four weeks of effort, during which the sessions of the superior court have been prolongd to an unusual degree, twelve men have qualified to try Patrick Calhoun, president of the United Railways, upon the first of seventeen indictments charging him with bribing public officials.

Robert Symington, the twelfth juror accepted, was passed yesterday over the stubborn objection of the defense.

Francis J. Heney, who is directing the prosecution of Patrick Calhoun, charged with bribery, was confined to his home today by a slight cold. This caused temporary postponement of peremptory challenges, which was to have occurred this afternoon.

Bad Breath and Sour Stomach

Stopped At Once With Pure Willow Charcoal, the Greatest Gas Absorber Known.

There is no necessity to suffer the humiliation, chagrin and discomfort of bad breath, biliousness, sour stomach, gastritis, sluggish liver, etc., when a little lozenge of charcoal will cleanse the stomach and make it pure and sweet.

Do not drug yourself when a simple little natural charcoal made from fragrant willow branches, sweetened with honey, will add tone to your stomach, liver and intestines, rapidly absorb gases and stop foul odors of all kinds.

Charcoal will absorb one hundred times its own volume in gas. A box full of charcoal placed in a bed room will keep the air of such a room pure and sweet.

A little charcoal lozenge dissolved on the tongue after meals will also keep the stomach fresh and clean. Charcoal is justly called the scrubbing brush for the stomach. The old monks of medieval times cured bad cases of stomach trouble, cast out devils from the system of man by feeding such a man charcoal.

Scientific men of today believe in the great strength of charcoal for the cure of human ills. Too much of it cannot harm one. The system craves it just like an animal needs and craves salt every so often. Charcoal goes into the stomach gently and is welcome, it settles down through the action of the stomach, and filters through all the food, absorbing gas, aiding digestion and giving tone to the juices, so that when the food goes into the intestines, and there meets other digestive fluids, the charcoal holds the impurities and thus keeps them from the blood.

Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges are made from pure willow. They are prepared fragrant by the use of honey and sweetened so they please the taste and are easily dissolved.

They have an enormous sale, thus stamping them with the approval of the public. Every druggist sells them, 25 cents per box. Go to your druggist today and buy a box; then after your next meal take two or three of them and judge for yourself of their merit.

Several taken at bed time will prove to you in the morning that they have been at work all night, for your bad breath will not be so bad after all.

Send us your name and address and we will send you a trial package by mail free. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 200 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

ANTI-TRUST DECISION EXPLAINED BY COURT

Error as to Scope of Wall Paper Decision Is Corrected.

Washington, February 10.—With a view to correcting what is believed to be a general misunderstanding of the scope and effect of the recent decision of the United States supreme court in the case of the Continental Wall Paper Company against the Lewis Wright & Sons Company, the statement is made that the court did not hold, as seems generally understood, that anyone purchasing goods from an unlawful trust can keep the goods without paying the purchase price.

What the court did hold was where the contract to purchase the goods was a part of the illegal combination in restraint of trade and was itself one of the agreements in restraint of trade, and where the person or company which bought the goods was a party by such purchase of the illegal combination, the court would not give its aid to carry out the forbidden contract. If, therefore, the buyer defended the suit on the ground that the contract of purchase was a part of the agreement in restraint of trade, and the seller admitted the fact, there could be no recovery on that account.

This, it is stated, is not a new doctrine, and the distinction is clearly made between the man who purchases goods from an admitted illegal trust in the ordinary way, and the man who buys goods under a contract agreement which is itself a part of the illegal scheme in restraint of trade.

TRAMPS WRECKED PASSENGER TRAIN

Boy Declares He Overheard Them Talking.

Said Man Who Caused Disaster Is Named Loaird—Officers of Illinois Central Arrest Boy at Grenada, Miss.

Memphis, Tenn., February 10.—That it was a man named Loaird, the first name he did not know, who caused the wreck of Illinois Central passenger train No. 2 near Coldwater, Mississippi, Monday causing the death of two persons and the injury of a score of others, is the declaration of Marshall Hall, a 19 year old youth who was taken into custody at Grenada, Miss., today by officers of the road.

Hall declared that he overheard tramps talking of the wreck. Two other men were arrested, but later released when it was shown they had no knowledge of the wreck. It is anticipated that other arrests will follow.

The second fatality occured last night, George Matthews, Summit, Mississippi, express messenger, succumbing to his injuries. While the condition of several others of the injured is serious it is believed that all will recover.

ROOSEVELT LEAVES FOR KENTUCKY TODAY

He Will Make Address at the Lincoln Centenary Exercises.

Washington, February 10.—The president will leave Washington by special train at noon on Thursday, February 11, for Hodgenville, Ky., to participate in the exercises in commemoration of the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln. He will arrive at Hodgenville about noon Friday, and after the exercises at the Lincoln farm, will return directly to Washington, reaching here about 1 o'clock Saturday.

The party will consist of the president, Mrs. Roosevelt, Miss Roosevelt, Secretary Wright, Secretary Loeb, Surgeon General Rixey, Captain A. W. Butt, T. H. Netherland, of the executive office, and O. T. Boyd, of the Pennsylvania railroad.

The program at the farm will consist of introductory remarks by Governor Folk, president of the Lincoln Farm Association; laying the cornerstone and dedication of the farm addresses by the president, Governor Wilson of Kentucky, Governor Folk, General James G. Wilson and Secretary Wright, and will close with a benediction by Bishop Galloway, of the Methodist Episcopal church, South.

On the return trip the president will make a brief stop 14 miles east of Louisville at the site of the new colored school connected with Berea college.

Another Veto by Roosevelt.

Washington, February 10.—President Roosevelt today vetoed the senate bill authorizing the secretary of the navy to mitigate, or remit, the penalties of loss of citizenship imposed upon deserters from the army and navy. The objection is based upon the infringement of the executive's power, and it is asserted that the bill in its present form would probably tend to increase desertion, while the original draft submitted by the navy department was unobjectionable.

Yellow Jack in Barbadoes.

Kingston, St. Vincent, B. W. I., February 10.—The spread of yellow fever in Barbadoes is becoming serious. From December 10 last to February 5 of this year thirty-six cases were reported and eleven deaths. The epidemic, which first seemed to be confined to the northern portion of the island, is now spreading throughout Barbadoes. Several cases have appeared at Bridgetown.

PLAYERS' CLUB COMPLIMENT MRS. WILLIAM LAWSON PEEL.

As a compliment to Mrs. William Lawson Peel, the Players' Club will repeat "The Rivals" at the Grand Tuesday matinee for the benefit of the Joseph Habersham chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, of which chapter Mrs. Peel is the founder and president.

So great was the demand for tickets for the performance Monday night, and so many of Mrs. Peel's friends were unable to secure tickets, the Players' Club, at a meeting yesterday afternoon, decided to give a matinee, and to give the proceeds to the Joseph Habersham chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, through which Mrs. Peel has done a far-reaching patriotic work.

It is an interesting fact that many of the tickets for Monday's performance have been purchased by people from Chattanooga, Macon, Augusta and Athens. The officers of the Players' Club are being besieged with letters asking the plan of organization and various questions as to the plays to be produced, similar clubs being organized among prominent society people elsewhere.

All the boxes have been sold for Monday night's performance, and many for the matinee Tuesday.

ROAD 3,000 FEET HIGH.

Carolina, Clinchfield and Ohio Has Been Completed.

Bristol, Va., Feb. 10.—The last rail of the Carolina, Clinchfield and Ohio railroad, between Dante, Va., and Bostic, N. C., a distance of 189 miles was laid this afternoon.

The rail was the one connecting it with the Seaboard Air Line, at Bostic and marked the consummation of one of the most difficult engineering problems in the south, that of the construction of the Blue Ridge division of the Carolina, Clinchfield and Ohio which rises to a height of 3,000 feet above the sea level, with a maximum grade of one-half of one per cent. It cost upwards of $50,000,000 and was built by George L. Carter. Active coal shipping from the Virginia fields to the Carolinas and the South will begin at once.

FOR FRANCHISE REFORM.

Bill Passed at Stockholm After Two Years' Contest.

Stockholm, February 10.—The franchise reform bill which, in one shape or another, has been before the legislature for the past two years, finally passed both houses today. The first chamber carried it by 119 votes to 22, and the second chamber by 158 to 53. The social democrats voted with the minority.

The scheme is a comprehensive one and is based on the principle of a proportional electoral system for both chambers and universal suffrage for the second chamber. It involves introduction of a considerable degree of democracy into the first chamber, and qualification for elections to this body is reduced to the point that those enjoying an income of $1,800 a year are eligible.

A COURT'S RESPONSIBILITY.

When courts contribute by omission or commission, to lawlessness, society begins to get near the danger line.

A negro, the self-confessed slayer of a white man, a minister of the gospel, has just been lynched at Houston, Miss., under circumstances which somewhat involve the court in responsibility for the mob's lawless act.

The mob gathered Monday, determined to lynch the criminal, but at the appeal of the sheriff, who promised to urge the court to call a special term and make prompt disposition of the case, dispersed.

The judge, for reasons which are not given and which could have little bearing if they were, declined to convene the court in special session. His refusal soon became known, the mob reassembled the day following and hanged the prisoner before the sheriff could interfere.

Deputies under the sheriff, who surrendered the negro to the mob, justify their action upon the ground of the court's refusal to order his prompt trial.

Of course the court's action cannot excuse the work of the mob, but that is not the point. It was naturally seized upon by the mob as justification for its lawless deed. More than that, officers of the law, charged with the protection of the prisoner, made it the pretext for their capitulation.

The only possible good reason for the court's denial of prompt trial, that of danger to innocence under the pressure of inflamed public sentiment, is negatived by the negro's confession of guilt. Court trial would have been no more than formality, but it would have upheld the law and preserved respect for it in that community.

Courts cannot afford to stand upon petty prerogative when community morals are at stake.

It is easy to conceive circumstances under which immediate trial would be unjust to the accused, but there is no possible suggestion of it in this case; confession precluded the danger of any such injustice.

The mob's justification of its act upon the court's dilatory policy was no more than human nature, and judges are unsafe, who fail to take human nature into account.

It is impossible to escape the conclusion, therefore, that the judge who refused prompt trial in this case, must bear, in part, the responsibility for the unwarranted and lawless action of the mob.

We may inveigh against mob rule, denounce lynching and appeal with all the force of which pen and tongue are capable for the inviolability of law and order, but when courts become careless, lax or indifferent, it is all in vain.

The mob hunts encouragement and waxes strong upon pretext, satisfied often with the shadow of it when the substance is lacking.

But if law is to live, and society is to enjoy peace under its protection, it must be impossible for anarchy to gather either encouragement or pretext from the courts.

NO BACKWARD STEP ON PROBATION.

Whether or not they are cognizant of the fact, the influences that oppose probation for inebriety in Atlanta, or anywhere else for that matter, are the proved, if the inadvertent, foes to the frail inebriate, his wife and children and the community.

If the officer administering this function rescues during the course of the year just one unfortunate from his own weakness and the inevitable physical and monetary penalty, he has amply justified his salary.

The records in the case of Atlanta show that this department relieves, where it does not redeem outright, not one, but scores of drunkards. These results are available in black and white. If necessary, a tabulated estimate might be made of the dollars and cents saved to the community in the earning capacity of the rehabilitated men. But it would be impossible to appraise the happiness and the harmony of families restored and the poignancy of the multiplying heartaches obliterated.

Performance and established fact demonstrate that this system is pursuing an invaluable economic as well as a humanitarian constructive mission. The Constitution is unwilling to believe that those lukewarm in its support are acting on full light.

In this connection, it is encouraging to note that an ordinance looking to the abolition of the local probation office was recently unanimously adversed by council's ordinance committee. Though reconsidered on a technicality, the eventual issue can hardly be in doubt. The reasons moving the committee to report adversely and in favor of probation, are still no less powerfully operative and there is little apparent cause to fear that other valid ones will meanwhile intervene.

The abolition of the probation system would be a backward municipal step. The salutary principle of the system cannot be controverted. More, not less, latitude should be extended it. That way lies humanitarianism and profit to the community.

INDIFFERENT TO MUNICIPAL HEALTH.

Notwithstanding it has been a year or more since agitation began for the admittedly necessary cleaning of back yards as a precaution against the communication and spread of dangerous disease, the approach of another spring and summer finds nothing whatever done, and the situation practically as it stood twelve months ago.

The necessity for cleaning back yards of accumulated garbage and filth and of requiring the best possible sanitary construction and arrangement of outhouses where sewer connections cannot be had, is not a subject that requires argument.

The carrying and communication of disease germs by flies and other insects, is a proven fact; the breeding grounds of both disease and insects are scientifically known.

Yet we find after a year's discussion of this matter and the known importance of prompt and effective action, the proposed ordinance is thrown back by council upon the board of health with the suggestion, in effect, that it take it up again at the beginning.

Industrially, the "laissez-faire," or let alone policy, may sometimes work all right, but when it comes to the protection of the life and health of a community, it borders upon the criminal.

First, it was proposed to put a tax of $2 a year upon each horse and cow owned and kept within the city limits—a reasonable and just proposal, whether unconstitutional or not.

When informed this could not be done, the board of health then requested council to pass an ordinance making the cleaning of back yards obligatory upon the owner, who should have the option of providing for the work himself or paying the city $2 a year for each animal upon the premises, to perform this service.

Still more reasonable, perhaps, than the first proposal, this measure has been allowed to hang fire for months, when many believed it had already been enacted, and suddenly it is resurrected from the archives of the ordinance committee, only to be hurled back upon the board of health with the information that it is not yet in legal shape.

It is to be hoped the illegality does not lie in the comparatively small expense put upon certain property owners who have been neglectful or careless of sanitary conditions upon such premises.

Whatever doubt may have existed as to the legal phraseology of this ordinance could easily have been cleared up by the city attorney long ago, if the paper had been referred to him for that purpose.

But there appears, for some inconceivable reason, rather an absence of disposition to act.

If this matter goes unattended to through another summer, those in direct authority cannot escape the moral responsibility for their neglect.

It is a serious situation in which life and health have to demand protection, when mere suggestion should prompt speedy and effective action.

Not another meeting of the city council should go by without positive action that will mean clean yards and better surface sanitation this spring and summer.

PURITY IN FOOD PRODUCTS.

The American Association for the Promotion of Purity in Food Products, in resolutions adopted at a meeting recently held in New York, lays down the reasonable and sensible proposition that if, as has been proven, chemicals are unnecessary in the preservation of food products, and if some of the experts contend that they are deleterious to the human system, then by all means their use should be forbidden by law.

The logic of this attitude cannot be questioned. When experts disagree, there is at least a reasonable doubt as to the effect of a chemical substance upon the consumer.

If no food products could be preserved and kept for any length of time without the use of chemicals, such use might even then be of doubtful advisability, but would necessarily be, to some extent, tolerated.

But we have the word of many of the most prominent manufacturers and canners of food products in the United States that chemicals are absolutely unnecessary where wholesome foods and sanitary methods are employed.

The housewife in her canning and preserving processes demonstrated this fact long before the big manufactories came into existence.

Therefore, in the face of the two facts, that chemicals are unnecessary and that there is at least reasonable doubt as to their danger to the consumer, prohibition of their use in such cases ought not to be a matter of doubt or hesitation.

Considering the character of the evidence against their use, there can be but one reason for the employment of doubtful chemicals in the preservation of food products: They are used by certain manufacturers to conceal the inferiority and unwholesomeness of the materials which they put upon the market.

It is known as a matter of fact that large factories have been built to utilize the waste products from canneries, such as tomato skins and cores, apple parings and even worm-eaten and decayed portions cut out of fruit, and from these are made tomato catsup, soups, apple-butter, jams and mince meat. It would be impossible to put such stuff as this upon the market were it not for the possibility of checking decay and concealing inferiority by the use of benzoate of soda and similar chemicals.

It is practically impossible for the consuming public to discriminate between products thus manufactured and those of undoubted purity, because the chemical does in one instance what wholesomeness and sanitary methods do in the other.

Thus we have three splendid reasons why the use of chemical preservatives should be prohibited. They are unnecessary; they are of at least doubtful physical effect upon the consumer, and they may be and are used to conceal inferiority and decay.

It matters not that a referee board of chemists has held that benzoate of soda in small quantities is harmless; even if there were unanimous agreement on this subject, it would remove only one of three essential objections to such use.

As the situation develops, it becomes more and more apparent how great and important the fight which Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, chief of the bureau of chemistry, is making in behalf of the people of the United States.

But little will be accomplished until the public becomes educated to the point of making distinctions between impure and wholesome food products.

The pure food laws, national and state, are materially assisting in this education by requiring the label on the package to state just what chemicals are used in the preparation.

The consumer should read carefully the label on the package; it will at least assist him to discriminate.

Gossip at the Capitol

Discovery having been made by Pure Food Inspector P. A. Methvin of the state department of agriculture, that a carload of alleged No. 2 oats, containing 54 per cent. of barley, an excessive adulteration, had been shipped by Alex C. Harsch & Co., of Nashville, Tenn., to Elipes Wilkins & Co., at Athens, Ga., the oats were ordered seized.

As it was an interstate shipment, Commissioner Hudson has turned the matter over to the United States district attorney with the request that he proceed against the shipper under section 10 of the national pure food act. The oats may be seized and confiscated and if there appears ground for it the parties shipping them may be indicted and tried for a misdemeanor.

The department will, it is probable, take similar action in the case of a carload of alleged No. 3 oats shipped by the Iowa Grain and Milling Co., of Nashville, to an Augusta firm. This carload is found to be adulterated with barley to the extent of 25 per cent., whereas 5 per cent. is the limit of such adulteration permissable under the law.

Another complaint against A. C. Harsch & Co., of Nashville, has been lodged with the department of agriculture by Charles D. Carr & Co., of Augusta, who have been forbidden to sell a carload of oats which they bought from that company and for which they have paid the purchase price. The Augusta firm writes that Harsch & Co. have declined to refund the money.

Rights of Passengers.

The supreme court yesterday rendered an important decision affecting the rights of passengers on railroad trains, in the case of Henry P. Jones, a minor, by his next friend, against the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Co. as lessee of the Georgia Railroad.

In this decision the court holds that the rights of passengers under sections 2299, 2300 and 2301 of the civil code are only incidental to the main purpose of the law which is designed to protect small railroad lines from unjust discriminations, and to compel the larger lines to sell tickets over the smaller lines when the latter specifically request it.

Jones sought to buy a ticket from Athens over the Georgia road to Augusta and thence over the Central of Georgia to Waynesboro. The ticket agent at Athens declined to sell the ticket to Waynesboro, and the suit brought by Jones was thrown out by the lower court on demurrer. The supreme court upholds this action and states that in order for a person to recover as the result of a refusal of one railroad to sell a ticket to a point upon another and connecting line, it must first be shown that the connecting lines had requested the other road to sell its tickets. In the absence of such request it is held there is no obligation on the part of the railway company to sell a ticket to a point on a connecting line.

ROOSEVELT REFUSES TO APPEAR IN COURT

Attempt to Get His Evidence in a Libel Suit Fails.

New York, February 10.—An effort made in a libel suit in Brooklyn to secure the testimony of President Roosevelt in the case is not likely to be successful.

The case is that of Borough President Bird S. Coler against a Brooklyn newspaper. Mr. Coler's counsel, M. L. Towns, made a motion before Judge Thomas, in the supreme court, for the appointment of a commission to go to Washington to take the president's testimony relative to the dismissal by him, as governor, of charges brought against Mr. Coler, when he was comptroller of New York city.

Mr. Towns telegraphed this desire to the white house. A reply was received from Secretary Loeb, as follows:

"President of the United States does not testify in court nor give evidence by deposition."

Giolito, who slept on the second floor with his wife and three children, was awakened by the dog's barking, and found the hall filling with smoke. An alarm was sent in and the fire was checked. Several of the guests were overcome by smoke and had to be carried to the street.

The shoes for his use in Africa are gun metal in color and are hob-nailed. They are heavy calfskin and treated with oil so as to make them waterproof.

The president's hunting suits, several of them waterproof, his guns and ammunition and his tents all are ready to be put on board the steamer the last of March.

FOR MURDER OF BANKER.

Steward and Footman Have Been Found Guilty.

Paris, February 10.—Renard and Courtois, respectively a steward and footman employed by the late August Remy, a wealthy retired banker, were this morning found guilty of the murder of the banker. Renard was sentenced to imprisonment for life and Courtois to twenty years' imprisonment. The jury found extenuating circumstances in connection with the case.

Courtois spent the time his fate was hanging in the balance chatting composedly with his guards. Renard was in a state of complete prostration.

August Remy was stabbed to death in his home in the Rue de La Pepiniere last June. The killing was done with a dessert knife and a large quantity of money and jewelry was taken. Courtois, who is a mere boy, in a confession to the police declared that Renard and himself had crept into the banker's bed room at midnight, he holding the victim upon his pillow while Renard repeatedly stabbed Remy with a dessert knife. Renard denied this statement.

Poncha, Cumbres and Marshall passes were blocked with snow and Tennessee pass was kept open with difficulty. Marshall Pass has not been closed before in many years. Thirteen snow-slides are reported between Derango and Silverton, and the Georgetown loop line of the Colorado and Southern is closed.

HEAVY FINES ARE PAID BY NEAR BEER DEALERS

Two very unusual and interesting cases for violations of the prohibition law and the near beer ordinance were tried in the recorder's court yesterday morning.

W. A. Freeman was arraigned for keeping open his near beer saloon on Marietta street near Corput. The offense was alleged to have been committed on September 14 of last year. At that time Freeman was tried in the police court, convicted and sentenced to two weeks in the stockade without a fine. He appealed the case to the superior court, which reversed the decision of the recorder's court, because the charge on the docket had been "disorderly conduct." Yesterday morning the recorder tried the case all over again, and the evidence was that Freeman went to his saloon on Sunday and brought out two bottles of near beer, which he gave to two friends to drink.

During the trial Freeman made a remark that near beer would not make a man drunk, which caused the recorder to say:

"Yes, that's what you fellows say who sell near beer, but if you will come up here and watch my court you will see that at least a half dozen men plead guilty every day to getting d[illegible]n near beer."

The recorder told Freeman that if he was willing to let the case end in the police court, he would make the fine $25.75. Freeman said something about again appealing the case, and the recorder said that he would make the fine $100. Freeman thereupon agreed to pay the fine of $25, and did so.

The other case was against Griff Freeman, who used to run a near beer saloon on Marietta street. Last December the place was burglarized, and the officers, while investigating the burglary, discovered four pint bottles filled with whisky in an old valise. They found two empty bottles under the counter, and several empty bottles in the yard in the rear of the saloon. All the bottles bore the same label.

N. D. Hicks, a railroad man, swore that the whisky in the valise was his, and he had left it there over night to take hunting with him the next day.

Freeman stated that he knew nothing about the whisky. There is a city ordinance which prohibits near beer dealers allowing whisky kept or stored in their saloons. Under this ordinance the recorder fined Freeman $50.75, which was paid. Freeman does not run a near beer saloon now, the police committee having refused to grant him a license this year.

BACK-YARD LAW MUST BE PASSED

Has Been Dilly-Dallied With Too Long.

Health Officer Says the Health if Not Lives of the People Depend Upon Back Yards Being Kept Free of Stable Manure.

As stated in yesterday's Constitution, the city ordinance which was drafted for the purpose of having the back yards in Atlanta kept free from stable manure was taken up by the committee on ordinances and legislation Tuesday afternoon and was referred back to the board of health. This was done, it is said, because the ordinance was not in good legal shape.

The ordinance contains a provision requiring citizens who own stock to clean their back yards at least twice a week, or in lieu thereof to pay the city $2 a year for each horse or cow so that the sanitary department can keep the yards clean.

There has been so much dilly-dallying with this important measure that the board of health next Friday afternoon will take hold of the matter and see that something is done, and done at once.

Dr. J. P. Kennedy, the health officer, has been working on this matter for more than a year. He has made every effort to get some satisfactory law passed and he has time and again stated that the failure to keep back yards clean jeopardizes the health, if not the lives of the people. Dr. Kennedy said yesterday:

Health Officer Makes Statement.

"The winter has nearly passed, spring is nearly upon us and the summer days will soon be here. Something has got to be done to keep the back yards in Atlanta clean. Citizens who have tried to remove the stable manure from their yards and have made every effort to do so have found it at times an impossibility to get wagons to remove the manure. The sanitary department will have to take hold of the matter, and either the city must provide the money or the owners of horses and cows must be required to pay a small tax with which to defray the expense. Stable manure, when allowed to collect in yards, breeds mosquitoes, flies, insects, microbes and bacteria. This, of course, causes sickness. It is productive of typhoid fever and other serious maladies. As the health officer of Atlanta, I cannot [illegible] too emphatically that something must be done at once to keep the back yards clean. The matter has been allowed to go on already too long. I shall make a statement to the board of health Friday afternoon and will continue to use every effort in my power and to urge that some city law be made and enforced which will protect the health and lives of our citizens. I believe that after a conference with the city attorney, a proper law can be drafted and the health department will see to it that it is rigidly enforced."

He came to Atlanta last Saturday and on Tuesday night delivered a lecture in the Knights of Pythias Hall in the Kiser building on "Winning Success." A large audience was present, composed of students and friends of the correspondence school. Mr. Richert is a well-known agriculturist, and has great faith in alfalfa. He says there are millions of acres of this land in Georgia, and that it will pay splendid dividends to the farmers who will take the trouble to grow it.

COL. J. H, SEALS DEAD; FOUNDED "SUNNY SOUTH"

The Well-Known Teacher and Journalist Dies at an Advanced Age.

Colonel John Henry Seals, founder of The Sunny South, and for many years a prominent newspaper man, died at the state sanitarium at Milledgeville yesterday morning, at the age of 76. The body arrived in Atlanta yesterday afternoon, and the funeral services will be conducted at the chapel of H. M. Patterson & Son this morning at 10 o'clock. Interment will take place in Oakland cemetery.

Colonel Seals was a versatile writer, and devoted almost his entire life to journalism. He had the distinction of being the first to establish a general magazine of literature in the south, when he founded The Sunny South magazine in Atlanta in 1874. He was born in Warren county, in 1833, and was graduated from Mercer university, at Penfield, with high honors, in the class of 1856. His first venture in journalism was made soon after leaving college, when he purchased The Temperance Banner, and moved it to Atlanta, where he published it for many years under the name of The Georgia Literary and Temperance Crusader. During the war he did much printing for General Bragg's army and the Richmond postoffice. He was admitted to the bar at Greensboro, and was engaged in school work from 1870 until 1874. He was married in 1857 to Miss Mary E. Sanders.

Equipped with a wide experience and a brilliant mind, he made The Sunny South magazine a success, and worked untiringly as an educator and writer until his health failed several years ago.

Colonel Seals is survived by one brother, Rev. T. A. Seals, a Methodist minister of the South Georgia conference, and one sister, Mrs. W. J. Kincaid, wife of Captain W. J. Kincaid, a confederate veteran and president of the Kincaid Manufacturing Company, of Griffin, Ga.

COUNSEL FOR ROBINSON WANT A NEW TRIAL

Valdosta Man Was Convicted of Bigamy and Given Sentence of Four Years.

Valdosta, Ga., February 10.—(Special.) Attorneys of Will Robinson, convicted of bigamy, in the superior court here, and this morning sentenced by Judge Mitchell to four years in the penitentiary, immediately made a motion for a new trial, which will be passed upon by the judge as soon as the testimony in the case has been written out by the court stenographer.

It is stated that, if a new trial is refused, the case will be appealed to the supreme court, Robinson's attorneys contending that the verdict against him was contrary to the law and evidence in the case.

Robinson's second wife, who was Miss Dora Simms, daughter of Ordinary A. V. Simms, of this county, today reiterated to friends her belief in his innocence and good faith when he married her, and says she will remain true to him, whether in the penitentiary or not.

OFFICER COOGLER DOING GOOD WORK

Council Committee's Action on Last Tuesday Was Disappointment.

A number of citizens are expressing themselves as both surprised and disappointed at the action taken by the council committee on ordinances and legislation in dealing with the ordinance which seeks to abolish the office of probationer for drunkards.

As stated in yesterday's Constitution, the committee first unanimously adversed the ordinance and declared that they believed the officer should be allowed to continue his work as at present. Subsequently the committee reconsidered this action and held the ordinance up at the request of Alderman Roberts, who said that he and others wished to be heard on the ordinance before any action was taken.

It is believed, however, that the first action of the committee will stand, as a large number of people, who have had occasion to investigate the good work that Probation Officer Coogler is doing to reform drunkards, will urge the committee to adverse the ordinance.

Mr. Coogler is constantly receiving letters from those who have been benefited by his work. Most of the letters come from wives whose husbands have been helped. As a sample of the kind of letters he receives, the following is given.

"Atlanta, Ga., January 16, 1909.—Dear Mr. Coogler: I cannot express my thanks for the good work you are doing in my home. Mr. —— is not the same man. Before he was put under your care, he was habitually drunk and crazy; always in some kind of trouble, and my life was a terror. Mr. —— is not a criminal; the stockade, jail, etc., is not the place for him, and has never done any good. It is a disease and weakness, and should be treated as such.

"Under your influence and teaching he is trying hard to overcome this, still taking the medicine you prescribed. After being with you at your office on the 20th (Sunday afternoon) of December, he came home a happy man, and has been praying and reading his Bible ever since, and living right. Yours is certainly a noble work, and should never be abolished; and nobody is better suited for this position than yourself. I pray that you will still continue in this work. I feel that you are a protection to me and my two little children, and I will never cease to thank you for what you have done."

ELECTION HINGES ON TWO POINTS

Contest Over Greater Atlanta Will Conclude Today

Assistant City Attorney Makes Answer to Injunction—Freeman Has No Right to File Bill in Name of County.

Whether the holding of the election to determine the county in which Greater Atlanta shall lie is legal and may be held will be decided upon the following two points:

"Does the act of 1906, with regard to the changing to county lines within an incorporated town, apply to cases where the removal of the county site might be a possibility? Or, was it intended to apply only to small towns along the boundary lines?

"If the proposed election in February is void, is DeKalb county entitled to have it enjoined, or has the county an adequate remedy at law after the election is held?"

The basis of the suit for injunction by R. J. Freeman, of DeKalb county, is upon these two questions.

The first session of the hearing took place yesterday morning before Judge Ellis at his residence. The argument by counsel will take place this morning in the offices of Wimbish, Watkins & Ellis.

Assistant City Attorney Mayson, who represented Greater Atlanta, objected to the bill on the ground that Freeman has no right to bring suit in the name of DeKalb county, arguing that he had no way to ascertain the opinion of its citizens. He also demurred to the fact that the act of 1906 was unconstitutional, and that the ordinance of the city calling for the election was defective. A decision may be reached this morning.

WAYNESBORO LAUGHS

At Stir in Washington Over Appointment of Postmaster.

Waynesboro, Ga., February 10.—(Special.) — The postmastership of Waynesboro seems to be attracting much more attention in the senate than it is in this city.

Little is heard here concerning the postmaster place, but it is known that friends of both applicants are working in the interest of their respective choice. Telegrams and letters have sent from this city and Augusta to the senators and congressmen regarding the appointment, but as far as the excitement is concerned it is to laugh at the statement. The appointment will watched with interest now since such a squall has been stirred up in Washington.

The office pays $1,700 a year.

Reorganization Plan of Company Effective..

London and Paris Bankers Have Contributed to $2,000,000 Required—Georgia Steel Company Taken Over.

New York, February 10.—The reorganization plan of the Southern Steel Company became operative today, when the committee announced that the $2,000,000 required for this purpose had been paid in. Of the amount called for, a liberal share is said to have been subscribed by prominent banking interests of London and Paris. The various properties owned by the company will be sold by the trustees in bankruptcy at Birmingham, Ala., some time in March, and the work of improvement and extensions already planned will then be carried out.

It is intended to vest in the new company all the properties owned not only by the Southern Steel Company, but also those of the Georgia Steel Company, the Lacey-Buck Iron Company, and the Chattanooga Iron and Coal Company. The directors of the new company will be elected in classes by the reorganization committee.

These new securities will be authorized: $10,000,000 of 4 per cent first and refunding mortgage twenty-year gold bonds; $10,000,000 common stock, and $7,000,000 noncumulative 6 per cent preferred stock.

The proprietors of the Southern Steel Company and subsidiary concerns include plant sites covering over 2,000,000 acres and red and brown ore lands, and rights covering over 41,000,000 acres. There are also six coal mines, with a monthly capacity of 88,000,000 tons.

YOUNG MAN TRIES SUICIDE

Had Previously Announced His Intention to Friends.

Waynesboro, Ga., February 10.—(Special.)—About 11 o'clock this morning a pistol shot startled the occupants of the home of Dr. C. T. Milner, and upon investigation it was found that Mose F. Green, a stepson of the doctor, had shot himself through the back of his head, using a 32-calibre pistol, while lying across the bed in his room. The wound is so serious that he is not expected to live.

Last night while he was returning from Augusta he stated to some friends that he was going to kill himself. They treated it as a joke. This morning he went up to the business part of the city and, flourishing his pistol, told several that he intended killing himself. After telling some of his friends goodby, he went home, kissed his mother and went into his room.

SOCIETY

To Wear Evening Toilets.

In compliment to the cast of "The Rivals," the members of the Players' Club who will attend the performance at the Grand Monday evening will wear evening toilets. The box parties will observe the same courtesy, and it is anticipated that the audience will be one of the most brilliant ever assembled in the Grand. The costumes for the play arrived yesterday and are gorgeous in the extreme to suit the elaborate fashion of the eighteenth century, when the smart set of the world assembled at Bath during that season. The King, Beau Brummel, Beau Nash and Sheridan, the wit and playwright, all assembled there and paid court to the "grandes dames" of the time. The duel scene in "The Rivals" is one of the most humorous in dramatic literature, and one in which "Fighting Bob Acres" is taken at his world, and a duel is imminent. Sir Anthony Absolute, Sir Lucius O'Trigger, the dashing Jack Absolute, all participate in this scene, which "ends well."

The play begins promptly at 8 o'clock, and, as one of the most interesting parts of Mrs. Malaprop's inimitable conversation takes place in the first part of the first act, the audience is urged to be on time.

Musical Recital.

Pupils of Mr. Hunter Welsh, of the piano department, and of Mrs. A. Ranson Wright, of the voice department of the Atlanta Conservatory of Music and Oratory, will appear Friday evening in a concert at the Cable concert hall. No admittance will be charged, and all friends of the conservatory will receive a hearty welcome. Early in the session the conservatory inaugurated the feature of pupils' recitals on Friday afternoons, in which pupils of all grades should take part. The immense value of these entertainments in stirring up interest and ambition in promoting friendly rivalry, and, best of all, stimulating to hard work, has caused the management to plan a series of concerts, in which the most advanced pupils may appear and present to the public the work they have done the past session. The ultimate test of any institution is the practical results.

The Atlanta Conservatory of Music and Oratory invites you to come and judge for yourself the high grade of work done within its walls.

Georgia Day.

On Friday of this week, February 12, at 3:30 p. m., in Cable piano hall, there will be most interesting Georgia day exercises. The most efficient committee appointed by the city federation, with Mrs. W. L. Peel as chairman, has arranged a most attractive program.

There will be a piano solo by Miss Julia Dunning, pupil of Mrs. I. Ware Wilson, and a vocal number by Miss Edna McCandless. Mayor Maddox will preside and introduce the speaker of the afternoon, Mr. Charles J. Haden.

While these exercises will be held under the auspices of the city federation, and all members of the organizations comprising the federation are expected to be present, it is also urged that every woman in Atlanta interested will feel at liberty to attend. Members of all D. A. R. chapers, Daughters of 1812, Colonial Dames, Pioneer Women and Memorial Association are especially invited to attend these exercises.

Lewis-Derr.

A quiet, pretty wedding last night was that of Miss Pauline Lewis and Mr. Orville Z. Derr, of Wilkesbarre, Pa., which took place at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. T. S. Lewis, on Peachtree.

The ceremony, at 9 o'clock, was performed by Rev. Z. S. Farland, of All Saints' Episcopal church, and there were present to witness it only a family party.

The bride entered the drawing room with her mother, and she was lovely in her wedding gown of white satin, its corsage and front panel of duchess lace, and its finish an embroidery of pearls. Her pearl necklace was her mother's, and her Honiton lace veil was one which had been worn by other members of the family and intimate friends. She carried an ivory prayer book.

Mrs. Lewis was gowned in black. Miss Ruth Lewis wore white olga crepe and lace. Miss Margaret Lewis wore lavender silk, Miss Pearl Derr, of Pennsylvania, wore a white lace gown.

The bridal party stood during the ceremony before a bank of handsome palms and ferns, out of which shone clusters of Easter lilies, and the entire house was decorated with a luxury of foliage plants, Easter lilies, narcissi and lilies of the valley.

An elegant buffet supper was served in the dining room, where the centerpiece on the lace-covered table was a bride's cake, embossed in old-fashioned elaborateness. The silver candlesticks had white shades, and all the appointments were tasteful and beautiful.

Mr. and Mrs. Derr, after a wedding trip of ten days or more, will make their home in Wilkesbarre. Mr. Derr, who is connected with the Lehigh Valley road, is successfully known in the business world, and has many friends to welcome his bride. She is a pretty and lovable young woman, the third daughter of the late T. S. Lewis, a prominent citizen, and of Mrs. Lewis, and her large acquaintance will regret her departure to live in Pennsylvania.

Saul-Wilson.

The marriage of Miss Susie Saul and Mr. Carleton Wilson, of Chicago, took place last evening at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride's brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Milt Saul.

Rev. Z. S. Farland performed the impressive ceremony, which was witnessed by the relatives of the contracting parties and a few intimate friends.

Mr. S. F. Wilson, the father of the groom, was best man, and the bride was given away by her brother, Mr. Milt Saul.

She was beautifully gowned in white satin, made directoire style and handembroidered. The yoke and sleeves were of rose point lace and her tulle veil was adjusted with a coronet of orange blossoms, and she carried a bouquet of bride roses showered with valley lilies.

The ceremony was followed by an informal reception, and an elegant buffet supper was served. The decorations were artistic in their combination of ferns, potted plants showing pink blossoms and a luxury of bridesmaid roses.

The roses filled bowls and vases, and were massed on the mantel cabinets and on the buffet.

The silver candlesticks had their shades of pink silk and the detail decorations all expressed that color.

Miss Saul is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Saul and a young woman of beauty and pronounced mental attainment. She is lovable and amiable and has a host of friends in the social world.

Mr. Wilson is a prominent young citizen of Chicago, the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Wilson, of Evanston, and the nephew of Mr. M. H. Wilson, one of the wealthiest manufacturers in the north.

Among the out-of-town guests to the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Sebastian of Evanston, who came in their private car; also Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Wilson and their daughter, Mrs. Doup; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Saul, of Savannah; Mrs. Etta Sperloch, of Tennessee; Mrs. Goodloe, of Chicago, and Mrs. W. S. Gazley, of Chicago.

Mr. Wilson and his bride left on the evening train for Mardi Gras, New Orleans, and later will travel in Southern California and Mexico. They will make their home in Chicago.

A Rare Treat.

Concerning a kindness to the Home for Incurables, a correspondent writes:

"When one thinks of the growth and changes that surprise even the daily sightseer in our city there is a satisfaction in contemplating the abundant material for new thoughts, supplied to some of the inmates of the Home for Incurables, the "shut-ins," through the kindness of a business firm—Messrs. Greenberg, Bond & Bloomfield—in giving them a rare treat on several occasions recently.

Through the generosity of this firm, carriages were sent at times for the use of the inmates, thus enabling them to enjoy a drive through the city and suburbs.

"A memorable event to one of these 'excursionists'—almost equal to visiting a strange city—to a paralytic who for five years had never been out in the world, until the happy occasion of this drive, which took her through Peachtree road, even to the creek.

"This ride into the realms of pleasure brought tears of joy the following day at the recollection of the previous day's jaunt.

"Others, whose lives have necessarily been narrowed by their infirmities, are also brightened in this way and given a wider scope in their food for thoughts by these carriage rides, so charitably supplied whenever desired.

Buffet Luncheon.

Beautiful in all its details and bright with the happiest hospitality was the buffet luncheon given yesterday by Mrs. Reuben Arnold, at her home on Ponce de Leon avenue.

Mrs. Arnold was assisted in receiving by her sister, Mrs. Hollins Randolph, and both handsome women were becomingly gowned. Miss Arnold wore white lace applique over pink silk, with a trimming in cloth of gold, and Mrs. Randolph's contrasting toilet was of black, satin trimmed, with white lace and an embroidery in black and gold.

Around them in the drawing room was a tasteful decoration in sprenagaria fern and American Beauty roses, and luncheon was served at four tables, each seating eight guests, in the dining room and library. The dining room table had as its centerpiece a large bowl of jonquills and ferns, among which were caught loops of yellow gauze ribbon, and all the color details were yellow. At the other tables pink roses were the decoration, and all the color details were artistic in pink and white.

"DRY" PEOPLE VOTE FOR LOCAL OPTION

There'll Be No State-wide Fight in Virginia.

Anti-Saloon League Goes on Record in Favor of Local Option Policy for the Next Year.

Norfolk, Va., February 10.—The Virginia Anti-Saloon League this afternoon adopted the complete report of the legislative committee, recommending a local option policy for the next year.

Ex-Senator Harmon, of Tazewell county, introduced a resolution calling on the legislature, at its next session, to enact a statute, without reference to the people, giving state-wide prohibition, but recognizing that defeat was ahead, withdrew it, to allow Senator Thomas, of Lynchburg, to introduce a substitute, calling for the submission of the question of state-wide prohibition to a vote of the people in 1910. The substiturte was easily defeated, and the "local option" policy presented by Dr. James Cannon, Jr., was adopted, and then made unanimous.

The following officers were elected: President, Rev. H. P. Atkins, Richmond; vice president, W. W. Smith, LL.D., Petersburg; D. P. Conway, Fredericksburg; Judge W. H. Mann, Nottoway; Rev. J. R. Ellis, Elkton; Rev. W. C. Campbell, Roanoke; Rev. C. S. Bowers, Winchester; Rev. W. E. Taylor, D.D., Petersburg, and A. T. Lincoln, Manassas; secretary, R. J. M. Pilcher, Petersburg; treasurer, S. P. Jones, Richmond; attorneys, Walter Sydnor, Richmond, and Thomas Whitehead, Amherst.

GIRL KILLED HERSELF TO ESCAPE MARRIAGE

She Didn't Like the Husband Chosen for Her by Her Parents.

Pittsburg, Pa., February 10.—True to the lover she left in Russia, Smila Majesterovit, 16 years old, belle of the Russo-Greek colony of Duquesne, a suburb, cut her own throat early today rather than marry a suitor of her parents' selection.

Her wedding to Mike Cucolz had been arranged, and last night the wedding feast was celebrated. When long after midnight the beer ran out, Smila was sent to the cellar for more. She did not return, and her brother, going to see what was wrong, found her dead in a pool of blood with her throat cut. Prior to the suicide it is stated her father locked her in a room with Cucolz hoping she might relent.

Alderman Aldine Chambers wanted the dividing line between the third and tenth wards to be Park avenue instead of South Boulevard, and Councilman Harrison said if Alderman Pittman would agree to that, he would.

Under the report adopted by the committee, more territory was added to Greater Atlanta. Land lot 139 and a corner of land lot 140 were taken in, which was made a part of the seventh ward.

City Engineer Clayton made a rough estimate of the size and population of the eleven wards as follows:

Eleventh ward		1,000	500

Judge George Hillyer appeared before the committee and urged in behalf of the Second and Third Ward Club that all wards be given equal representation in the general council. He said that the common council should be according to population and the aldermanic board should be chosen from the city-at-large. He also urged that members of the city boards be elected from board districts, regardless of any ward lines.

Citizens from Oakland City were present and said that they would be satisfied with whatever the committee did in regard to the eleventh ward.

The committee adjourned subject to the call of the chairman, Councilman Aldine Chambers.

THEATERS

At the Orpheum.

"Fun in a Boarding House," at the Orpheum this week, is one of the best skits ever seen on a local stage. Seven people compose the troupe, and the act is presented in a two-story house which for durability could not be beat if it were permanent. This act is a scream. "Cupid at Home" is one of the neatest little skits ever seen here. This act has plenty of humor in it, and is splendidly acted. Hardeen, the handcuff king, has one of the best acts of that kind. Getting out of a straightjacket in full view of the audience, and the milk-can mystery, are marvelous pieces of work. The Lutz Brothers, the armless wonders, do some dexterous feats with their feet that are unequalled. One of the brothers shoots with a naccuracy that would do credit to a person with arms. The Doherty Sisters and Smith and Hageney have two good singing and dancing acts that were well received.

At the Bijou.

Clark's Runaway Girls are presenting one of the most acceptable and one of the most original extravaganza performances the Bijou has offered. The show is constructed along the lines now familiar to the patrons of extravaganza, and the standard of ability is very well maintained.

One of the best novelties of the show is at the end of the first part. At the cue, at the finale, for the curtain, the drop comes down just as it has for years, but just before it gets to the stage the speed is reduced, and the drop comes slowly, with the chorus girls still smiling and peeping until the scene is closed in. The novelty has won three and four calls at every performance.

At the Lyric.

"Just Out of College" is unquestionably the cleverest comedy play that has been offered Atlanta this season. It is one of the best efforts of George Ade, who, following his other successes, wrote this story of the experiences of a college boy winning the hand of his sweetheart, with the assistance of his going-to-be father-in-law, without the knowledge of that worthy.

Lester Crawford, as the college hurrah boy, and Maude Vaughn, as the kind friend, have two types that are perhaps the most popular, because of the personality of the artists, but all the players are capable and clever, and all the parts are natural and good.

Theatergoers cannot now realize what a great treat is in store for them in the engagement of Cecil Spooner at the beautiful Lyric. This will be the positive event of the season, and Miss Spooner and her company of forty players, will accomplish here just what she has done in all but one of the Wells houses—the absolute record of the theaters.

Miss Spooner is to stay two weeks at the Lyric. She will present two plays each week. Her opening bill will be "The Dancer and the King," and the week will be finished with "The Girl and the Detective." The second week will be given to productions of "The Girl from Texas" and "The Girl Raffles."

"The Substitute."

Laughter and good humor will be the order of the hour at the Grand Friday and Saturday, when Max Figman presents his latest success, "The Substitute," a comedy drama by Beulah M. Dix and Evelyn Greenleaf Sutherland, authors of the New York success, "The Road to Yesterday." Mr. Figman won many admirers and showed his superior talents during the past two seasons by his impersonation of "The Man on the Box." In "The Substitute," however, he has greater latitude for his abilities, and can demonstrate his versatility as an actor of character as well as comedy. The Atlanta engagement will include a matinee Saturday afternoon.

SOCIETY

David Bispham's Recital.

David Bispham, the celebrated baritone, is an ardent apostle of the song in English for English-speaking people.

He will be heard in one of his famous song recitals at Cable hall tonight, and in a brief interview yesterday he was asked why the program for tonight is made up entirely of songs in English.

"And why not?" he said. "English well lends itself to singing, and it makes the music mean so much more to the average English-speaking audience. This year all my songs are in English, and in my belief they lose nothing on that account, even the translations of the works of foreign composers, because there is no reason why translations should not be artistic.

"As you will see," he continued, "I have given over several numbers on my program to American composers, partly because the songs are extremely worthy of consideration, and partly because of my office as president of the American Society of Musicians and Composers, the main purpose of which is to encourage American composers and exploit their compositions.

"One of the most noteworthy examples of American work on my program tonight is the Bergh music of 'The Raven.' The composer is from Minnesota, although he is, I suppose, by the name, of German extraction, and he is playing with a prominent New York orchestra."

Mr. Bispham, with Mr. Smith, his accompanist, was just about to rehearse "The Raven" and he very kindly proceeded to do so for the benefit of his small audience, and the impression he made by his wonderfully dramatic reading, with the telling support of the incidental music, was as if the poem were entirely new, as if it had never been heard before. It would take a temperament with the operatic experience of Mr. Bispham, with the poise and control of his years of concert training, to make the superb success he does of this wierd poem, which, by the way, he humanizes where the ordinary reader makes it uncanny. As a feature of the Poe celebration recently at the University of New York it was received with enthusiasm, the music translating marvelously the mood and the content of the poem.

It is certain that Mr. Bispham's entire program tonight, as he presents it, will be one of artistic delight, since he is an artist to his finger tips, and the large number of Atlanta people who have heard him, both in recital and in grand opera, are his best advertisement here. The program follows:

"Where'er You Walk," Semele.
"Behold, Along the Dewy Grass" ("The Seasons"), Handel Haydn.
The Frost Scene ("King Arthur"), Purcell.
"Down Among the Dead Men" (old Jacobin song).
Mr. Bispham.
"The Mad Dog" ("Vicar of Wakefield"), Liza Lehman.
"Ho, Jolly Jenkin!" and "The Templar's Song" ("Ivanhoe"), Arthur Sullivan.
Mr. Bispham.
Polonaise, A-flat major, Chopin.
Melodrama (recitation to music), "The Raven," Edgar Allan Poe (music by Arthur Bergh).
Mr. Bispham.
"But Lately in Dance I Embraced Her," A. Arensky.
"The Pauper's Drive" (Noel), Sidney Homer.
"Boat Song" (M. J. Moses), Harriet Ware.
"The Ballad of Little Billee" (Thackery), Graham Peel.
"The Hanging of Danny Deever" (Kipling), Walter Damrosch.
Mr. Bispham.

REFEREE FOOD BOARD IS ATTENDED BY LEVER

South Carolina Member Defends Chief Chemist Wiley.

Washington, February 10.—After having been sidetracked for a week, the agricultural appropriation bill was further considered in the house of representatives today.

The pending question was an amendment by Mr. Lever, of South Carolina, striking out the provision making appropriation for the board of reference of the department.

Mr. Lamb, of Virginia, a member of the committee, opposed the amendment on the ground that to one man should not be left the final verdict in the matter of the purity of food and drug products.

Mr. Lever maintained that the referee board was an illegal body, and that the pure food and drug act pointed out the method of appeal. His whole argument was a defense of Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, chief of the bureau of chemistry. The amendment was lost, 70 to 111.

An amendment by Mr. Underwood, of Alabama, increasing the appropriation for soil surveys from $137,360 to $237,360, gave rise to an extended debate. The house, however, rejected the amendment.

The bill was still under consideration when the house adjourned.

"It Helped Me"

"Thought I Would Die"

"I was just a walking skeleton," writes Mrs. Beatrice Johnson, of Miami, Okla., "and they all thought I would die; but, by the help of your good medicine, Cardui, I am now well and weigh 138½ pounds.

"Before I took Cardui, I had suffered with female troubles for 8 years. Sometimes, at certain times, my back would ache for a week or ten days. Cardui helped me, and was the only relief I could find. I cannot praise it enough, for the good it did me."

Take Cardui, when you are weak, easily tired, dizzy, blue, and out of sorts. It will tone up your nervous system and make you feel well, strong and ambitious.

Take Cardui, when your womanly organs are out of order, when you suffer from womanly pains, dragging sensations, irregularities, backache, headache and general female misery. It will go to the seat of the trouble, and regulate the organs that are not working right.

Purely vegetable, gentle, harmless, and specifically a remedy for women, Cardui is just the medicine for you to take. Try it.

Special Suits

They came in yesterday morning on schedule time, passed their examinations with honor, donned their price-tickets and took their places on the racks where they now await the thirty-seven women who today shall be so fortunate as to buy them.

They're beautiful little Suits. We chose the materials and the models ourselves, knowing full well what Atlanta women like.

There was just enough material to make three dozen and one Suits.

There are the shepherd checks in blue, brown, and black and white, so exceedingly the vogue of the moment. There are cream-striped woolens of smart styles. There are invisible-striped woolens in solid colors and fancy weaves--smoke, slate, navy and black.

The coats are 30 and 36-inch lengths, fitting and semi-fitting. They're cut with a lot of style, some having the slasht and scallopt bottoms, some a slim cutaway effect. Patch pockets of pretty shape, collars of corded silk, buttons for finish and trimming, excellent satin or messaline linings--are the features that distinguish these Suits.

They're ideal Spring garments--fresh, trim, correct. Just what a tailored Suit should be.

They are Suits we shouldn't think of asking less than $25 for, ordinarily.

But we bought them for a price that justifies us in selling them for far less than their normal value.

GEORGIA RIVERS REACH HIGH STAGE

Chattahoochee and Savannah Are Swollen.

Trains Are Blocked by Overflows and Mills Compelled to Close—Savannah Is 27 Feet Deep at Augusta.

Columbus, Ga., February 10.—(Special.)—The Chattahoochee is "big river" tonight, although it has not reached the danger line. Some of the cotton mills at the lower falls here were compelled to close today because of the high water. During the 24 hours period ending at eight o'clock this morning 4.81 inches of water fell in Columbus.

Railroad schedules in this section are somewhat interrupted as a result of last night's heavy rains. The Conecuh river is flowing over the Central of Georgia railway tracks between Union Springs and Troy, Ala., and two cars of a freight train were derailed there today. Tonight the waters of Uchee creek, in Russell county, Alabama, are over the Central of Georgia tracks there, and the trains are blocked. A bridge on Baker creek between Muscogee and Talbot counties was swept away.

Savannah River Up.

Augusta, Ga., February 10.—(Special.)—As the result of Tuesday night's tremendously heavy rains in the upper tributary regions, the Savannah river is flowing about 27 feet deep, the highest stage reached since the disastrous Augusta flood. No apprehension of a freshet is felt, however, as the river will not rise much higher.

WEATHER FOR TODAY: JUST FAIR—COLD

"TOO MUCH BOX PARTY."

No, Judge Gopher, was not asleep at the switch. Whenever anything is doing he is always on the job, but the next day just after dinner, how sleepy he is! A big plush upholstered arm chair is very hard to resist, and when Judge Gopher turns on the sleep and opens the fog horn, the anvil chorus is put out of business. "What a sad sight!" exclaimed a young friend who did not understand and thought the judge was becoming a victim of spending too many hours of the late night and early morning delving into the mysteries of the law. "Too much box party," replied the chap who was wise, and the reverberations of the roar of laughter which greeted this explanation waked Judge Gopher from his slumbers and started a flow of profanity which almost shocked the fire.

The temperature: 42 maximum.

BOTH GAINED

By Change to Postum.

"We have given Postum over a year's trial," writes a Wis. lady, "and our only regret is that we did not try it before. Previously we used coffee twice a day and were very fond of it.

"My husband had been subject to severe attacks of sick headache for years and at such times could not endure the sight or smell of coffee. This led me to suspect that coffee was the cause of his trouble.

"I was also troubled very much with acidity of the stomach and heart palpitation after meals. I had been doctoring for this, but had not suspected that coffee was the cause.

"Finally we purchased some Postum and it did for me what the medicines had failed to do. The first day we used Postum I noticed less of my own trouble, the second day was entirely free from it and have never been troubled since.

"My husband has been entirely free from attacks of sick headaches since he quit coffee and began to use Postum.

"I have heard people say they did not like the flavour of Postum, yet I have served it to them without detection, because it has the color and snappy coffee taste, similar to mild high-grade Java. This shows they had not made it right. When made according to directions on pkg., it is as delicious as coffee and besides it is wholesome."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

DR. RUFUS DORSEY HEADS GRADY MEDICAL BOARD

Prominent Young Physician Is Elected President at Meeting of Board.

The election Tuesday of Dr. Rufus T. Dorsey to the position of president of the medical board of the Grady hospital comes as a rare compliment to this young physician and is very gratifying to his friends.

Dr. Dorsey has gained the confidence and respect of a large class of people and is regarded as one of the most prominent young medical men in the city. He has been with the board only four years and his election thus puts him ahead of a number of superiors from point of age.

DR. RUFUS T. DORSEY,
He Was Elected President of Medical Board of Grady Hospital Yesterday.

Dr. Dorsey is the second son of the late Judge Rufus T. Dorsey and is a graduate of Auburn college, where he gained prominence as a football player, playing the position of quarter-back. After serving as an interne there for fourteen months he was commissioned with the volunteer forces and went to the Philippines for a couple of years. At present he is professor of clinical medicine at the Atlanta School of Medicine.

CRUSADE IS LAUNCHED AGAINST LACE CURTAINS

Chicago Health Officer Says Curtains Breed Disease.

Chicago, February 10.—Health Commissioner Evans, in his efforts to reduce epidemic diseases to the minimum, has launched a crusade against lace curtains. He says:

"Bad air is the cause of considerable of Chicago's ill health, and lace curtains, peculiar as that may seem, play their part in producing bad air. The first woman who placed lace curtains on her windows did so in order to keep out the dirt and permit only pure air to enter the home.

"Other women who followed her custom, however, thought of the beauty of the curtains until today they are afraid to open their windows to let in the air for fear the dust will injure them.

NO TARIFF REFORM FROM THIS CONGRESS

Says William Jennings Bryan to Newspaper Men at Pensacola.

Pensacola, Fla., February 10.—"The country need not hope for revision of the tariff at the hands of the present congress," was the statement made by William J. Bryan just before his departure from this city late last night.

"There will be none for the reason that republicans cannot afford to lower the tariff, for every man who has a schedule has contributed to their campaign fund and has to be protected. It is true that contributions to the national fund were published, but moneys received by the congressional fund were so tainted that the republicans dared not publish even after the election. While there may be talk of a revision and a lower tariff there will absolutely be no change and those who are anticipating such will be disappointed."

COMMITTEE MEETS ON NEW GRAND LODGE

Brown House, Macon, Ga., February 10.—(Special.)—A meeting of representatives of the grand lodge, Georgia Masons, was held here this morning for taking up and making disposition of the question of constructing a new Masonic temple for the grand lodge. Messrs. J. R. Dickey, of Atlanta; E. A. Heard, of Rome; J. R. Rush, of Pelham; Dr. R. H. Taylor, of Griffin, and O. E. Dooly, of Macon, made up the representatives in the meeting. This was their first session, and therefore hardly permitted the members to get fully into the plans.

It is generally understood that this committee will propose the sale of the present property on Mulberry street and the purchase of another more desirable place beyond the thickly congested business section. Nothing of a business character was far enough developed to be announced. Another early meeting will be held.

AKERMAN NO CANDIDATE.

Cartersville Man Doesn't Want Collector Rucker's Job.

Brown House, Macon, Ga., February 10.—(Special.)—Assistant United States District Attorney Alexander Akerman entered a strong denial that his brother's interests in the position of H. A. Rucker, in Atlanta, were being pushed in Washington. "I have not been to Washington in the interest of my brother Walter, of Cartersville," he declared today, "and as far as I am informed he is no candidate for the appointment."

Walter Akerman has been mentioned several times as among those persons seeking the office now held by Rucker, and friends here and elsewhere have generally thought that he would be a hard contestant.

WAKE FOREST FIVE TO MEET ATLANTA

Tarheel Basketballers Play Club Team Tuesday Night.

The week's lay-off of the Atlanta Athletic Club basketball team has done the men a world of good, evidently, for the practice affair last night was the fastest and hardest that the club team has held in many a day.

No games have been booked for this week, but on next week two games that should be hummers have been billed.

On Tuesday night the fast Wake Forest team, coached by Dick Crozier, the former sunfielder on the Atlanta baseball team, will be the attraction. Wake Forest has always had a good team, and one that has ranked up among the top-notchers in basketball in the south.

Dick Crozier in his letter to Manager Coke Davis, of the local team, stated that he had a team this year that is the best he has ever coached, and that is going some. The Wake Forest team of two years ago was one of the best in the south, and if this year's team is any better, then the club men are in for a beating.

On Thursday night Auburn will play the club team. This game should be a hummer also, and, in view of the number of alumni of the school living in Atlanta, one of the best crowds of the season should be on hand.

The following week, the Asheville (N. C.) Young Men's Christian Association team will probably be booked. This team has defeated every team it has played against in the last two and a half years, and a few days ago came out with a challenge to meet the team winning the championship of the south for the title, and offering a guarantee.

Some other good teams will probably be booked before the season ends, and on each of the above nights the second team of the club squad will probably play some fast team as a preliminary game. Stone Mountain will probably be booked for one night next week, and, as they have defeated all comers in the prep school ranks, the game should be closely fought.

ELEVEN FAST CYCLISTS ARRIVE IN ATLANTA

In the List Are Some of the Best Known Riders of the Country.

Now that bicycle racing is all the rage in Atlanta, and a good track has been built for the races, the leading riders of the country are turning their races towards the Gate City with an idea in view of getting some races booked in this city.

Early yesterday morning quite an army of the best sprint cyclists of the country arrived in the city, and Atlanta is to be treated to some of the best sprint races in her history in the near future.

The men who arrived yesterday were Wiley, Root, Folger, Hunter, Walker, Senhouse, Williams, Bargett, Mackay, Ben Hill and Fred Hill. These men are all top-notchers and when they get on the track there is sure to be some tall doings in the sprint line.

Not only are the above men good sprinters, but some of them are pace followers, other six-day grinders, while a couple are good in motor cycle races, so from the above bunch Atlanta should pick the cream of bicycle attractions, and it is said that the best are yet to come.

Use K K K one time you'll never want any that's better.

KAVANAUGH ISSUES CALL FOR SPRING MEETING

President William A. Kavanaugh, the chief executive of the Southern League, has issued his formal call for the spring meeting of the Southern League, which is to be held in Mobile on February 22 and 23. The historic Battle house is to be the headquarters of the meeting.

A banquet has been arranged for the occasion and all the delegates have been invited to bring their wives for the festivities. Dr. Inge is looking after the arrangements, and the delegates are sure to have a good time with the matter in his hands.

Manager Smith, of the local team, will attend the meeting in the interest of the Atlanta association, and he will use all his efforts to see that Atlanta gets some of the plums of the schedule dates.

$12,000 for a Foot.

Montgomery, Ala., February 10.—(Special.) One of the largest verdicts ever given in an Alabama court has just been paid by the Montgomery Traction Company to Mrs. Matilda Knabe. Mrs. Knabe had a foot cut off by a car at the fair grounds in 1906. She sued for $50,000 and was given a verdict of $12,500. This was reduced by the judge to $10,000, which has been paid, the principal and interest being $12,875.

DANIEL WATER

Keeps the Stomach Healthy

When a catarrhal condition of the stomach exists, there is a large quantity of vitiated mucus secreted from the membrane. Not only is this a weakening drain on the system, but it interferes with digestion. The food lies undigested in the stomach because the gastric juice is weakened from the catarrhal mucus; gas forms, there is a sense of fullness in the stomach, and headaches are frequent.

Daniel Water corrects this condition; its alkaline properties neutralizing the impure stomach acids and removing the mucus from the glands and ducts. Nothing is more beneficial for catarrhal conditions of the stomach than the mineral alkalies, and Daniel Water contains these sulphates in large proportions. It keeps the stomach clean and healthy, and greatly aids digestion. Price 10c. per gal. at the spring. Daniel Mineral Water Co., Union Point, Ga.

WALTHOUR BEATS JIMMY MORAN

Chelsea Cyclist Pushed Him Hard, Though.

Turville Won Motor Race From Lawson—Hudson Defeated Amateurs—Fine Program Billed for Friday Night, in Which Many Riders Appear.

For such a cold night, quite a large crowd turned out to witness the cycle races at the St. Nicholas Velodrome last night and they were treated to a lot of fast riding. Despite the cold weather outside, the building was comfortable, made so by several large stoves that are located at various parts of the building and the evening was evidently thoroughly enjoyed by all present.

The stellar attraction of the evening, the races between Bobby Walthour, of Atlanta, and Jimmy Moran, of Boston, were exciting, but the Atlanta rider again demonstrated that he had returned to form and he won the two opening heats, thus making it unnecessary to ride the third, but he was pushed by the Chelsea cyclist all the way.

Moran made a fine impression on the cycle fans who attended the races last night and he showed that he had the stuff in him, and that he will make it hot for Walthour when they meet again on Friday night is not doubted by any who saw him ride last night.

In the opening race, after covering eleven and a half laps, the chain on Walthour's wheel came off the socket and as the rules of the race are that should an accident occur in the first mile the race shall be started over again, it was commenced again and Walthour won it in the fast time of 7:55 1-5, clipping off sixty seconds from the best time made in the five-mile races with Wills last week. He won the second race in 8:29 1-5.

Both riders rode hard in both races and both of them fought every inch of the way, as evidenced by the fact that but a small matter of yards separated them at the finish of each race.

Noon Hudson, the local amateur rider, won the amateur pursuit races in easy style, qualifying in the opening heat and catching Gilbert in the fourth lap of the final, thus winning.

In the motor race, Charles Turville turned the tables on Gussie Lawson and won the two-mile race by 5 yards in the fine time of 2:12 1-5.

Friday Night's Program.

On Friday night the Atlanta cycle public will be treated to some of the best cycle races that have ever been pulled off in the south. The stellar attraction of the evening, of course, will be the 20-mile motor-paced race between Walthour and Moran, and in this race all the indoor records for twenty miles on a 12-lap track should go.

Lawson and Turville will race five miles on motors also, but on this night the amateur pursuit races have been done away with. There are fourteen professional sprint riders in Atlanta and these riders will take part in a half-mile handicap race. These men will be divided into two squads, and the winner of each of these heats will race in the final.

A decided innovation that will be pulled off on Friday night will be a five-mile open lap race, in which all of the professional riders now in the city will take part. That this race will be a fast one is assured by the fact that the management has offered a prize for each lap, and the man winning each lap receives this prize, so the crowd can expect sprinting in each lap of this race of sixty sprints to keep them cheering all the time.

The summary of last night's events is as follows:

One Mile Amateur Pursuit Race: Between Hudson, Gilbert, Printup and Prather. Gilbert and Hudson won.

One Mile Amateur Pursuit Race, Final: Hudson and Gilbert. Hudson caught Gilbert in the fourth lap. Time, 1:01.

Five Mile Motor-Paced Professional Race: Walthour vs. Moran. Walthour won; distance 30 yards. Time, 7:55 1-5.

Five Mile Motor-Paced Professional Race: Walthour vs. Moran. Walthour won; distance 40 yards. Time, 8:29 1-5.

Two Mile Motor Cycle Race: Lawson vs. Turville: Turville won; distance 5 yards. Time, 2:12 1-5.

L. S. U. WANTS BREIT AS BASEBALL COACH

Baton Rouge, La., February 10.—(Special.)—Coach Wingard and Manager Broussard, of the athletics at the Louisiana State university, are awaiting a reply from Theodore Breitenstein, the New Orleans twirler, in answer to an offer made the veteran to coach the Louisiana State university baseball team at the opening of the season this year.

A couple of years ago Breitensten did some work for the Louisiana State university baseball team. He trained the cadets before they started out on their schedule of spring games, and the team made a splendid showing that year.

The Louisiana State university management has made a second offer to Breitenstein to assist in the coaching of the team this year. It is expected that he will accept the offer, but no positive answer has been received from the New Orleans player.

TO MATCH AL KAUFMAN AGAINST JIM JEFFRIES

New York, February 10.—According to a story published here today, Billy Delany has posted $1,000 with Al Smith as stakeholder to bind a match for the world's heavyweight pugilistic championship between Al Kaufmann, of California, and James J. Jeffries. According to the report, Delany, who once handled Jeffries, believes Kaufmann can defeat Jeffries, and is willing to allow the $1,000 to go as a forfeit for a $10,000 side bet. Delany is quoted as saying that in all his fights he has never permitted Kaufmann to extend himself, desiring to teach him all the fine points of the game. Now he considers Kaufmann to be fit to do battle with any man in the world.

ED LAFITTE COSTING TIGERS A NEAT PILE

Commission Awards Jersey City $1,500 Additional for Former Tech Star.

Detroit, Mich., February 10.—(Special.) Detroit must pay Jersey City $1,500 additional for Pitcher Lafitte, according to the ruling of the national baseball commission, in which the claim of President Frank Navin was sustained.

The commission gave its opinion on the agreement entered into by the Jersey City club and the Tiger management for the transfer of Lafitte.

The original agreement provided for the payment of $3,500 and the transfer of "Jerry" Downs or some other acceptable infielder, the additional cash to be paid in case no acceptable man could be turned over to the Jersey City organization.

It was impossible to secure waivers on Downs and Detroit substituted "Bill" Coughlin for "Jerry." The Jersey City owners put in a bid for Killifer, but the Detroit club refused to part with the sorrel-topped lad.

About this time a newspaper published a story to the effect that Dr. "Jimmy" Casey was to be given Killifer for his Montreal club. The Jersey City club received the news and instead of coming to an understanding with President Navin took the matter to the national commission and asked for a settlement in the matter. The national commission wrote President Navin and the head of the Tiger family informed the supreme court of baldom that he had no intention whatever of turning Killifer over to Montreal or any other club, and that he couldn't secure waivers on Downs. Furthermore that he had offered "Bill" Coughlin to the eastern organization and of the action they had taken in regard to the former Tiger captain.

The commission holds that Detroit kept its part of the agreement as far as players are concerned, but under the terms of the agreement they must pay $1,500 to Jersey City, which the Detroit club has stood ready to do and would have done long ago had Jersey City put in its claim here.

M'GRAW SIGNS ROBINSON.

Veteran to Round Out Giants' Young Pitchers.

New York, February 10.—(Special.)—Manager John J. McGraw, of the Giants, yesterday signed Wilbert Robinson, the former Baltimore catcher, to go to Texas with the first squad of recruits for the purpose of coaching the new pitchers. Robinson and Arlie Latham, formerly of St. Louis, will be McGraw's best bowers in bringing the youngsters up to playing notch.

Robinson came to New York recently with Ned Hanlon. He had been considering an offer which McGraw extended to him several weeks ago. After a talk with McGraw, however, Robinson decided that the inducements were liberal enough to tempt him to leave his Baltimore cafe for a few weeks.

Robinson occasionally plays with the Baltimore team, and is not as heavy now as he was a few years ago. From his long experience and the association of years in Baltimore, McGraw places great reliance in Robinson's judgment of pitchers.

Last year Bresnahan attended to this part of the training, but as McGraw now has only one experienced receiver—George Schiel—he feels that Robinson will be of great assistance.

Steamer America Wrecked.

Castellon, Spain, February 10.—The steamer America, belonging either to the Fabre Line, or a Barcelona shipping company, has been wrecked off the coast of this province. Her passengers and crew, sixty persons all told, were saved. The heavy sea prevailing makes impossible any efforts at salvage. The America is a Spanish coaster, plying between Barcelona and Cartagena.

$75,000 Fire at Roanoke.

Roanoke, Va., February 10.—Fire early tonight in the new office building of the Norfolk and Western Railway Company did damage that is estimated to be from $50,000 to $75,000. The flames started in the top floor and were confined, mostly to that floor. The roof was burned clear and some damage done to the fifth floor. Valuable records were destroyed. It was believed the old building, a six-story structure, would be destroyed, but it did not catch. The loss is covered by insurance.

ISSUE COLLAPSE CHECKS FOR MARATHON RACES

Here's a swell suggestion: A New York person advocates "collapse checks" for Marathon races. The "collapse check" works just the same as a rain check in baseball. Whenever an athlete goes under and the race fizzles out the "collapse check" is good for the next performance.

Of course the public will be able to see the beauties of the proposed innovation, but the promoters most likely cannot discern its merits with a spy glass. Recent performances, however, stamp it as a wise precaution.

Southern Congress Pays.

Washington, February 10.—Charles Hall Davis, of Petersburg, Va., chairman of the executive committee of the Southern Commercial Congress, this morning paid to representatives of Cardinal Gibbons the $10,000 installment due today, on the old St. Mathews church tract, in this city. The property covering 22,500 square feet is to be the site of the Southern Commercial Congress building.

CARLOS SMITH RELEASED.

Will Manage Jackson, Miss., Team This Season.

Birmingham, Ala., February 10.—Manager Molesworth, of the Birmingham baseball club, today announced that Carlos Smith, right fielder, had been released to become manager of the Jackson, Miss., Cotton States League team, the understanding being that Birmingham was to have the pocket of players in the Jackson team this season. Smith is very popular throughout the Southern League.

Soon to Start Paving.

Macon, Ga., February 10.—(Special.)—A new paving ordinance passed by the city council last night provides for the paving of about 100 yards of the upper end of Poplar street and that portion of Washington avenue between Orange street and College. The work will be started within thhe next few days.

New York's Costly Plant.

Central park in New York city is assessed at the valuation of $215,000,000, not for the purpose of taxation, but so as to show the amount of real estate value that is exempt from taxes.

S.S.S. REMOVES THE CAUSE OF CATARRH

No remedy that does not entirely remove the cause of Catarrh from the blood will ever make a permanent cure of the trouble. Just as long as the circulation remains contaminated with the impurities and catarrhal matters which produce the trouble, the mucous membranes or inner linings of the body will be kept in a state of irritation and disease. Sprays, lotions and other local applications will sometimes temporarily relieve the tight, full feeling in the head, buzzing noises in the ears, uncomfortable, stuffy feeling of the nostrils, and help to loosen the mucus in the throat; but Catarrh is a constitutional blood disorder and until it has been entirely driven from the system there can be no permanent cure. S. S. S. cures Catarrh by removing the cause from the blood. It attacks the disease at its head and by thoroughly purifying and cleansing the circulation, and ridding it of every particle of impurity, and at the same time enriching the blood, allows the inflamed and irritated membranes to heal, improves the general health, and stops every disagreeable symptom. S. S. S. reaches down to the very bottom and leaves no trace of the disease in the system. Book on Catarrh and any medical advice without charge to all who write.

REPORTS FROM ALL MARKETS

COTTON NERVOUS AND UNSETTLED

Market Closed Barely Steady at Net Decline of 5 to 14 Points.

New York, February 10.—The cotton market was nervous and unsettled today, with the close barely steady at a net decline of 5@14 points. Sales were estimated at 115,000 bales.

The market opened steady at a decline of 2@5 points, in response to the cables, and after a few minutes of hesitation, developed weakness under selling by brokers believed to be working for the leading bull interests, scattering, liquidation, southern and Liverpool selling, and local bear pressure. There was a good demand on a scale down, but sentiment among smaller longs was very much unsettled owing to the reduction in the leading long lines, and there was nothing in the news that could be considered reassuring, for Manchester accounts were gloomy. The southern spot basis was said to be easier, and good rains were reported in eastern and central sections of the belt, where the absence of normal winter precipitation has been noted, although not to the same extent as in the southwest, where planting begins earlier. There was a big demand for October around 9.29, sufficient to check the decline, but the market developed no rallying power and closed at the lowest prices of the day. Southern spot markets officially reported early were generally unchanged. New Orleans had a rumor that short time was likely in Lancashire, but this was denied, although the cables reported that yarn stocks were accumulating, and some sales of cloth had been made at lower prices.

The market will be closed on Friday, and part of today's trading was probably in the way of evening up for over the week-end.

Receipts at the ports today 29,904 bales, against 45,141 last week, and 24,425 last year.

For the week 225,000 bales, against 251,633 last week and 171,752 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 12,923, against 5,672 last year, and at Houston 6,173, against 3,129 last year.

Spot closed quiet, 15 points lower; middling uplands 9.85; middling gulf 10.10; no sales.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, February 10.—Cotton spots were quiet and easy. Low ordinary 5 3-16, nominal; ordinary 6, nominal; good ordinary 7 7-16; low middling 8 11-16; middling 9 7-16; good middling 9 15-16; middling fair 10 5-16; fair 11 1-16, nominal. Receipts 12,923; stock 300,649. Sales on the spot 350 bales; to arrive 250.

Futures opened quiet at a decline of 4 points on a much lower Liverpool market than looked for. Bears were aggressive from the first call, and their selling had full effect on prices, the bull side offering no support at all. Lack of a spot demand, both in this market and in Liverpool, and the recent rains in the drought area in the western cotton belt encouraged the bears. Prices sagged slowly all day, reaching a level 9 to 15 points down, net, late in the session. The market closed barely steady at the lowest prices of the day.

Dry Goods.

New York, February 10.—The jobbing house trade is active, more particularly in the piece goods departments. It is stated that there are more buyers in the market at this time than ever before in a similar period of a spring jobbing season. Southern staple ginghams have been advanced. Wash goods are being bought liberally. Knit goods are dragging in some places, and quite active in others. Hosiery is selling better for fall and spring on duplicate orders. Silk skeins dye goods are being ordered for fall. Silk ribbons are active for immediate shipment.

Liverpool Cotton.

Liverpool, February 10.—Closing: Cotton, spot quiet; prices 3@5 points lower; American middling fair 5.78; good middling 5.37; middling 5.17; low middling 4.97; good ordinary 4.57; ordinary 4.32. The sales of the day were 8,000 bales, of which 1,000 were for speculation and export and included 6,900 American. Receipts 17,000 bales, including 15,900 American. Futures opened quiet and closed easy.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, February 10.—The market has shown a sagging tendency, with sales of March and other old crop months depressing prices. Speculation declines to enter and liquidation on any advance has taken the place of purchases on declines. All orders for the moment are well met and the trade is less sanguine. Cables from Liverpool are hinting at short time in Manchester, and in consequence recent buyers are prompt sellers, either on a profit or at signs of weakness. Nevertheless the old bull feeling dies hard. And the decline is more resisted than would otherwise be the case, in the anticipation of a possible rally and advance. But the dearth of general business is improbable.

the trip to Panama, are expected to land in this city tomorrow afternoon.

Much doubt exists as to the exact time Judge Taft will reach New Orleans. According to the plans made by the committee, the president-elect was to reach the city at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, but on account of various additions to the program it was found necessary to change this hour to 2 o'clock. Tonight wireless messages received from the North Carolina and Montana are to the effect that the transfer to the scout cruiser Birmingham, which is to bring the party to New Orleans, will not be made until 8 o'clock tomorrow morning. It is asserted that the Birmingham will require fully seven hours to ascend the river, and on this account the members of the committee fear that again the time of the land reception must be postponed until 3 o'clock.

Reception at River.

The president-elect sent a wireless message during the afternoon, however, saying that the Birmingham would meet the New Orleans river reception committee 8 miles below the city at 1 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. This would give him ample time to reach the foot of Canal street one hour later.

Parade in Afternoon.

Tomorrow afternoon a civic and military parale will be tendered the president-elect and Mrs. Taft, and tomorrow night they will occupy the box of honor at the old French opera house, where the "Elves of Oberon" will give their annual ball. Friday morning a reception will be tendered the president-elect under the auspices of the Colored Young Men's Christian Association, and Friday night a banquet will be given Judge Taft by 1,000 citizens of New Orleans.

The president-elect will leave for Cincinnati at 9:20 o'clock Saturday morning over the Queen and Crescent route. Mrs. Taft will leave about the same time over the Louisville and Nashville for Washington.

The Banquet.

A feature of the banquet is to be the serving of the Cafe Broulot. Several hundred bowls have been secured, and the coffee, rich with the aroma of spices and cognac, will be stirred with long silver ladles by darkies chanting old creole songs while the alcohol is burning.

Cardinal Gibbons, who will pronounce the invocation at the banquet, arrived in New Orleans last night.

Census of Japanese.

Governor Gillett tonight said that the next matter to be taken up by the assembly would be the proposed appropriation of $10,000 for the compiling of a census of Japanese in California. He said that if from the data so gathered, it were found necessary, congress would be urged to enact an Asiatic exclusion measure.

"Under the agreement between Japan and our government," said Governor Gillett, "the former is pledged to restrict immigration, as much as possible. If Japan had grounds for abrogating this arrangement, and decided, in view of the unfriendly acts on the part of the California legislature, to remove these restrictions on the emigration of her people, all our ports would be open to the latter. If, then, we went before congress and asked the east for support for a general Asiatic exclusion law, the latter might advance the adverse argument that we had the situation well in hand at one time through federal negotiations, and lost our advantage by the acts of our legislature against the wishes of the president and the secretary of state."

Danger Over, Says Roosevelt.

Washington, February 10.—The president today, in talks with visitors, expressed the belief that the danger of rupture with Japan was practically over. John Temple Graves was among those to whom the president talked on the subject.

Mr. Graves would not repeat any of the president's words, but declared that the president had averted grave dangers to the Pacific coast and the country.

MAY WHEAT MAKES NEW HIGH RECORD

Sold at $1.11 7-8 and Market Closed Strong and Almost at the Top.

Chicago, February 10.—Rallying from a tame and easy opening, the wheat market developed today into an active and strong affair, the May delivery advancing to $1.11 7-8, a new high record mark for the season. The market closed strong at almost the top with net gains of 3-8@1-2 to 1 1-4. Corn and provisions closed steady and oats firm.

Although a new high level in wheat prices was reached, the volums of business was not extremely large and trade was not of a general character, but was mainly confined to what are termed "professional traders." The establishing of the new high mark was chiefly the result of liberal purchases by the leading bulls who, it was claimed, bought approximately 1,500,000 bushels during the last half of the day. The demand was based to some extent on reports from the southwest, which claimed that much of the fall sown crop in Kansas and Nebraska, which was said to be without snow protection, had been damaged by the cold wave. During the day the May delivery ranged between $1.10 1-3 and $1.11 7-8 and closed at $1.11 3-4. July closed at $1.00 1-2@5-8c.

Cold weather in the corn belt had a depressing effect on the carn market, but this influence was offset by active buying of the July delivery by several leading bulls. Owing to a falling off in local receipts the price of the cash grain advanced today 1-4 to 1-2c. At ahe close prices were a shade lower to 1-8@1-4c higher with May at 64 1-2 and July at 64@1-8.

Liberal purchases by leading bulls caused a sharp advance in the price of oats. The market closed firm at net gains of 1-8 to 3-8 with May at 53 1-4 to 3-8c and July at 47 3-4.

Provisions were quiet and steady. At the close prices were unchanged to 2 1-2c lower.

thing for the guards to do in the event they are to remain a heavy artillery battalion. The battalion became heavy artillery in order to get rid of the infantry service, and it appears that it is up to them now either to go to Fort Screven, as the war department requires, or revert back to infantry as a part of the First regiment.

Incident to the trouble within the battalion several of the officers, it is understood, recently tendered their resignations, but upon consideration withdrew them pending an effort to get the tangle straightened out.
